Certified Net Assessed Values by Unit, 2007-2011

Prepared by the Department of Local Government Finance
July 5, 2011

Key Findings

Certified net assessed values are the assessed value of property less any deductions and exemptions, as certified to the Department of Local Government Finance ("Department") by each county auditor. These values serve as the taxable value of a property and help determine tax rates. Tax rates are calculated so that a target levy can be raised from the net assessed value; therefore lower (higher) net assessed values result in higher (lower) tax rates and vice versa. Certified net assessed values have declined since 2007, due largely to the implementation of the supplemental homestead deduction in 2009. The supplemental homestead deduction allows qualified homeowners to deduct 35% of the first $600,000 of assessed value after application of the standard homestead deduction, and 25% of the value in excess of $600,000 on their primary residence and up to 1 acre of immediately surrounding land. Since the decline of assessed values in 2009, statewide assessed values further declined from 2010 to 2011 as assessed values trended downward due to the economic recession in 2009 and 2010.

Data and Methodology

Data for this report is taken from the certified net assessed values as presented to the Department by the County Auditor for each taxing unit. If a given unit was not active in a particular budget year, its entry reads "Inactive" and any associated percentage change comparison would also read "Inactive." Units in the counties for which we have not yet certified a budget order are indicated as "Not Yet Available." Statewide figures are presented by summing the total certified net assessed value in all counties for which data is available. This does not equate to the sum of the certified net assessed value for all taxing units as taxing units overlap partially or totally with other taxing units. A straight summary of all taxing units' net assessed values would count certain areas multiple times and therefore would not provide an accurate sum of total net assessed value throughout the state.

Special units encompass a wide range of units levying property taxes, but that do not necessarily fit under other categories. They include airport authorities, solid waste districts, fire protection districts, public transportation districts, and consolidated city-county units.

For taxing units that cross county boundaries, we have taken the sum of all contributing counties' net assessed values as the total for the unit. If any of the counties contributing to the unit's entire net tax base are not yet certified for a given year, the entire unit is marked as "Not Yet Available." All cross-county units are listed under their major county and are further denoted with an asterisk after the county name.
