Several trees exceed 30 inches in diameter including: white ash, black oak, chinquapin oak, and red oak. The shrub layer includes woodbine, smooth black haw, mapleleaf viburnum, green brier, pawpaw, hazelnut, grape, gooseberry, and raspberry.

In spring the ground is carpeted with wildflowers including: spring beauty, bloodroot, anemones, mayapple, and beds of large-flowered trillium. Later species are true and false Solomon's seal, sweet cicely, bedstraws, nettle, and appendaged waterleaf.
