Helen later sold the resort to a Fort Wayne church. She maintained a log home on 80 acres on the south side of Little Gentian Lake. That property now belongs to ACRES Land Trust and is called Wing Haven Nature Preserve.

On the north side of the lake, the church operated Camp Calvary and added facilities. The camp later became Oakhill Resort and Conference Center, and more infrastructure was added.

Oakhill was acquired in 2007, through the generosity of Ralph and Sheri Trine of nearby Angola, and deeded to the State. Indiana's Chapter of The Nature Conservancy, Indiana Heritage Trust, ACRES Land Trust, 101 Lakes Trust and other local organizations and individuals contributed time and resources.

ICE AGE LEGACY TO NATURAL GEM

The area's glacial history created its mix of rolling hills, lakes, wetlands, and special plant and animal communities found nowhere else in Indiana. The term "kettle" describes lakes gouged by enormous blocks of ice that melted and left large pools in their paths.

Gentian Lake is the first of the Seven Sisters Lakes chain, a pristine example of a lake system rimmed by wetlands and featuring a unique fen marsh environment.

The Seven Sisters were identified in the 1969 book, Natural Areas of Indiana and their Preservation. The book says the chain "merits the position at the very top of the priority ratings for potential nature preserves in Indiana; the imminent loss of the tract to this use will be a major blow to nature preservation in the Midwest."

Indiana's chapter of TNC identified the property as "a portfolio project," and elevated it to the organization's highest priority for protection and preservation.

Finally, during the first decade of the 2000s, the dream of many scientists and naturalists came true, and the land was protected.

LIVING LIGHTLY

The environmental impact of the classic, tiny "up north" resort of the 1950s and 60s was light. People sought a quiet connection with nature along the lake and the trails through woods and wetlands. At a time when a mechanized country was moving full-throttle, vacationers found simple fun, peace and possibly a spiritual connection to the natural world.

That old-fashioned feeling is maintained today. The cabins have been refurbished and now have small kitchenettes. The dining hall lodge named for the Swensons, serves as a meeting place for rent. The lake remains quiet and free from gas motors.

The hills beyond offer hiking, biking, picnicking, sledding, family gatherings, and quiet nature study.

Steeped in natural and cultural history, Trine provides nearly 200 acres of rolling, wooded hills, open meadows, unique wetlands and a kettle lake. The natural features provide the perfect setting for a restored lakeside resort from yesteryear, plus a new meeting and conference facility, a casual boating and fishing center, picnic areas, and trails for hiking and biking.

BRIEF HISTORY

Much of this land was Wing Haven Resort from 1948 to the early 1970s. Helen and Ben Swenson bought the property after many years of serving as innkeepers at Pokagon State Park's Potawatomi Inn.

Helen was a naturalist and artist who loved birds. She named each of 12 cabin and duplex units for birds and decorated each according to the particular bird's colors. The Swensons' attention to simplicity and love of nature was further reflected with trails and even a small "nature cabin."
