Please see below email that we have sent to Cecilia Ernstes in a regards to this same project. We responded August 3 and it may just have not been received on your end.

This has been going on for a long time.I have not seen a set of prints on an addition or a new structure .This project has not made it through any zoning variance at this time.Being placed in a residential zoned area.So with out more information and a approved zoning certificate, I would disagree with anything in regards to a variance request.

Thank you,
