

Indiana Department of Natural Resources - Division of Forestry

Management Guide Amendment
Jackson-Washington State Forest
Compartment 10 Tract 34
Forester Michael Spalding
December 14, 2010

The Ecological Resource Review for this tract stated in section 2.2 that the structural habitat feature inventories did not meet all compartment level guidelines. This is not correct. The structural habitat feature inventories exceeded the maintenance level for all size classes.

A regeneration opening of 2.6 acres in size was marked on the north slope near the east end of the tract in the mixed hardwoods forest type. This opening contained mature and damaged red oak, yellow-poplar, and beech as well as suppressed and damaged red maple and sugar maple.
