

Questions and Answers

One of the options for signing in was asking about signing in for your school do you? No, I try to make signing in as easy as possible to avoid issues getting students into class.

Can you show how to record and update video, and how to make sound be heard from videos? When you share your screen, on the bottom when you choose which screen to share there is a box to check to share video sound. Check that box and you are good to go!

Can you see who annotates and what they use? You can if you choose that option. The option is with the three dots (more when you are screen sharing). You click to see the annotator and a name pops up with the drawings.

Can you show us how to change background? The virtual background is next to the video icon on the bottom of your screen. Click the symbol ^ and, you can choose your background. Granted, you do have to have a video card that can handle adding the background.

Can you show or explain screen sharing? Screen sharing allows you to pull up websites, pdfs, presentations, videos, and anything you may want your class to view. You have to be a host or host has to give you permission to share your screen. You will see a green button on the bottom of your computer screen that will allow you to share screen. While screen sharing you will be able to annotate (write) on the screen. So if you pull up worksheets, your students or you can write in answers or underline content. The link below will explain more on screen sharing.

Zoom Help Center: Screen Sharing

Could you show or explain where and how to annotate again? Annotate is done while screen sharing. It is in more options at the top of your screen on computers while on phones and tablets the pencil on the bottom of the screen will give you access. The link below will explain how to get to annotate

Zoom Help Center: Using Annotation Tools