

Wound Process Checklist Guidance

The wound process checklist was a tool developed to assist nurses in what steps need to be done upon discovery or admission of a wound.

The facility can make wound assessment/documentation packets with the wound process checklist form the first page of the packet, with the corresponding forms behind it. This will ensure when a wound is admitted or discovered all the necessary forms/steps are together.

The wound process checklist is also a way for the wound care nurse/designee to follow up to ensure all necessary steps were implemented and whom the nurse should follow up with if there are any concerns.
