Sec. 1. GENERAL. It has been found that it is very common for industry to hire a private industrial waste hauler to dispose of untreated wastes which the company cannot economically treat or to transport treated wastes to ultimate disposal sites. These industries frequently have no knowledge of where eventual disposal takes place.

This regulation, pursuant to the authority in IC 1971, 13-7, as amended, prescribes the procedures to be followed in connection with the issuance of permits to persons engaged in removing liquid industrial wastes from the premises of other persons, provides for the inspection and numbering of vehicles and provides controls for the disposal of liquid industrial wastes.
