

INDIANA GAMING COMMISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

TO GOVERNOR MITCH DANIELS

Ernest Yelton
Executive Director

THE INDIANA GAMING COMMISSION

William Barrett (Chair) of Greenwood is an attorney and a partner in the law firm of Williams Hewitt Barrett & Wilkowski. He is a cum laude graduate of Indiana University School of Law and has clerked for the Indiana Court of Appeals, Judge John Baker and Tax Court Judge Tom Fisher. Commissioner Barrett also serves as litigation counsel for Johnson County. Mr. Barrett was appointed to the Commission in May 2006.

Tim Murphy (Vice-chair) of Fishers is the Chief Financial Officer for Irwin Mortgage Corporation (formerly Inland Mortgage Corporation), a subsidiary of The Irwin Financial Corporation. He is a 1973 graduate from Indiana University with a degree in accounting. Mr. Murphy was appointed to the Commission in December 2005.

Donald R. Vowels (Secretary) of Evansville is an attorney and a partner in the law firm of Bumb & Vowels, LLP. He is a graduate of the University of Southern Indiana and Ohio Northern University School of Law. He has served as a member of the Vanderburgh County Election Board and as the Court Administrator of Vanderburgh Superior Court. Mr. Vowels is an original Commission member and was appointed to the Commission in September 1993. He served as the Chair of the Commission from 1997 to 2005.

James T. Cummings Jr. of Indianapolis presently engages in residential and commercial real estate sales through his company, Cummings Real Estate, Inc. He earned his Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from Indiana Central College (University of Indianapolis). Mr. Cummings is the founder of Indiana Black Expo and served as its Chairman and President from 1971 through 1973. Mr. Cummings was appointed to the Commission in March 2007.

Tom Swihart of Valparaiso is a Certified Public Accountant and has worked in the firm of Weichmann and Associates in Munster for the past 16 years. He graduated from Valparaiso University in 1968 with a degree in Business Administration. Mr. Swihart received a Masters degree in Public Administration and Urban Planning from Pepperdine University and an MBA in Accounting and Tax from Farleigh Dickinson University. Mr. Swihart was appointed to the Commission in July 2006.

Tim Walsh of Crown Point, is currently Director of Investor Relations for VARA Capital Management, LLC in Chicago, IL. He is also a limited partner of Walsh Financial Services. Mr. Walsh has an MBA from the Kellogg School of Northwestern University with concentrations in Finance and Accounting. Mr. Walsh was appointed to the Commission in October 2006.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

2007 once again brought additional responsibilities to the Indiana Gaming Commission; Charity Gaming, Slot parlors at Indiana's horseracing tracks and two new divisions to combat illegal gambling while our core activities of licensing and providing regulatory oversight of the state's 11 casinos provide continued challenges.

Ernest E. Yelton
Executive Director

GAMING AGENTS

The transfer of on-site enforcement officers from the Indiana State Police to our Gaming Enforcement Agents was completed in FY 2007. The final four classes graduated from the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy in July, August, November and lastly in February. We are authorized to employ a total of 121 gaming agents, 11 supervisors and 4 investigators. We have experienced a few vacancies since implementation but are adequately staffed on each boat. We will fill those open positions during our next academy for gaming agents which will be required for agents to monitor the slot parlors at the horseracing tracks.

TRANSFERS

The gaming industry has continued its recent history of acquisitions and mergers. As part of the purchase of Aztar Corporation, transfer of Casino Aztar in Evansville to Wimar Tahoe Corporation was approved by the Commission in November. Wimar, doing business as Columbia Entertainment, took over operation of the Evansville property in January. Two other transfers were announced and are still pending at the end of the fiscal year: Harrahs, which includes the Indiana properties of Horseshoe and Caesars, to private equity groups Apollo and Texas Pacific Group; and the transfer of Resorts East Chicago to Ameristar. Very recently, Fortress and Centerbridge, also private equity, announced the stock purchase of Penn National which operates Argosy in Lawrenceburg.

DISPARITY STUDY

As required by statute, the Commission conducted a disparity study for the purpose of determining appropriate goals for utilization of women – and minority – owned businesses. This study is the first industry specific one performed in the U.S. The results of the study are detailed in this report. However, new state guidelines may necessitate the Commission's re-examination of the goals next year.

ALTERNATE VESSEL CERTIFICATIONS

The Commission concluded a two year project of creating and approving alternate standards for Indiana's gaming vessels at its June meeting. Working with our vendor, ABS Consulting, with review by the United States Coast Guard and Indiana's Department of Homeland Security, the standards are designed to fill the void left after the Coast Guard informed the Commission that it would no longer supervise the design and structure of newly constructed vessels, nor would it issue Certificates of Inspection for them. With two new vessels currently under construction and the remaining vessels aging, the standards will serve as important tools in ensuring the continued operation of casinos in Indiana with priority given to promoting patron safety. Finally, the Coast Guard has informally provided notice that it may no longer service existing boats as soon as the end of 2008.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Notable capital expenditures totaling nearly $335 Million, not including gaming equipment purchases and general maintenance, in FY 2007 are as follows:

- Argosy spent $35 million toward its $310 million project that will include a new vessel, parking facility and related infrastructure.
- Belterra spent $5.3 million for new retail facilities.
- Caesars spent $30 million on upgrades to its vessel.
- Horseshoe spent $121 million towards its $485 million new vessel project; $485,000 on an energy saving project that included a building automation system that controls mechanical equipment (chillers, boilers, and air handling units), as well as electric radiant heaters on the garage helix ramps and $330,000 on renovations to the fourth level of their vessel.
- Finally, $2.5 million was spent by Majestic Star on pavilion improvements, restaurant renovations and an entertainment venue.

Additionally, Blue Chip has announced its expansion of $135 million hotel complex scheduled to be completed in early 2008.

FRENCH LICK

The French Lick Resort Casino, including the completely restored and renovated French Lick Springs Hotel, opened in November, followed by the opening of the spectacular West Baden Springs Hotel in May. In keeping with the vision of a destination resort, the Donald Ross Golf Course also opened in the spring, with a fully reconstructed clubhouse. An eighteen hole Pete Dye golf course is under construction and should be ready for play next year.

The partnership between the two entities that created, constructed and owned the project came to an end this year. On June 5, 2007, Lauth Resorts Casino LLC ("LRC") and Orange County Holdings, LLC ("OCH") entered into an agreement in which, among other things, LRC agreed to sell 100% of its ownership and other interests in Blue Sky to OCH and/or OCH's affiliates or designees. OCH subsequently assigned BSR OC Acquisitions, LLC ("BSR"), a newly created limited liability company, all of OCH's rights to acquire LRC's ownership interests in Blue Sky. BSR is owned by the Carl A. Cook trust, William A. Cook, Stephen L. Ferguson and Robert L. Santa. BSR acquired LRC's interests in Blue Sky by a cash transaction at a fixed price agreed to by LRC and OCH. After closing, Blue Sky Casino LLC remained the operating agent.

COMMISSIONERS AND STAFF

In FY 2007, we welcomed three new Commissioners aboard. Tim Walsh of Crown Point is currently Director of Investor Relations for Vara Capital Management, LLC, in Chicago. Tim is also a limited partner of Walsh Financial Services. Tom Swihart of Valparaiso is a Certified Public Accountant and has worked for the firm of Weichmann and Associates in Munster for the past sixteen years. Jim Cummings of Indianapolis is a realtor with his company, Cummings Real Estate, Inc., and a founder of Indiana Black Expo.

There were also several staff changes. Superintendent of Gaming Agents, Kevin Mahan, elected to accept employment in the private sector, and Director of Charity Gaming, Mark Mitchell, transferred to the Office of the Inspector General.

Marian Coffey was hired as our receptionist upon the retirement of Norman Jones. In the legal division, Ron McClain was hired into a newly created attorney position, and Kesha Rich was promoted from secretary to Occupational License Coordinator upon departure of longtime IGC employee Michelle Marsden. Matt Shouse was promoted from intermittent employee to secretary. In Charity Gaming, Diana Toth and Larry Delaney were hired as field auditors, Victoria Hayworth was hired as secretary and later promoted to Program Coordinator, and Kim Barnett was promoted from Program Coordinator to Administrative Assistant. Finally, Janette Thomas was hired as a secretary.

Jayne Via was hired to replace Janeen Morley in the Audit division, and Sherry Green was promoted from Enforcement Division secretary to Personnel Officer. In the Background Investigations Unit, Jill Clouse was hired to replace Ann Popcheff.

EAST CHICAGO LITIGATION

In the final hours of the 2007 Indiana legislative session, an obscure provision relating to casino revenue sharing for local economic development in East Chicago was placed into Section 302 of House Bill 1001, commonly known as the "Budget Bill." Under the provision, upon a transfer of a controlling interest in the East Chicago Riverboat license, the fiscal body of the City would purportedly be authorized to void any term of an existing development agreement between the City and the party transferring the interest. The fiscal body would also be empowered to unilaterally redirect contractual payments to itself.

Although neither the merits nor legality of Section 302 were specifically debated by the legislature, Section 302 became law upon passage of the budget. Shortly after passage of the bill, the Foundations of East Chicago, Inc. (the successor by merger to two nonprofit foundations slated to receive revenue sharing payments under the existing development agreement) filed suit in Marion Superior Court seeking a declaratory judgment and injunctive relief on grounds that Section 302 violates the United States Constitution and the Indiana Constitution. The Indiana Gaming Commission was named as a party defendant in that action. Upon motion of the City of East Chicago, the lawsuit was removed to federal court. Subsequently, the Foundations successfully obtained an order remanding it to State court where it is currently pending.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIONS

Through the passage of House Bill 1835, the two existing horseracing facilities, Hoosier Park in Anderson and Indiana Downs in Shelbyville, were given the opportunity to operate slot machine parlors, commonly referred to as “racinos” in the gaming industry. The legislation requires each to pay a total fee of $250 million over two years, spend a minimum of $100 million in initial capital expenditures and limits the initial number of electronic gaming devices to 2000. The racinos are presently scheduled to open as early as mid-2008. The Commission is responsible for the licensing and regulatory oversight of the casino portions of the tracks.

House Bill 1510 was introduced at the request of the Commission to address technical changes in the Charity Gaming legislation passed in 2006 and to seek clarification from the General Assembly regarding the types of allowable events in Indiana. This legislation, as passed, made numerous changes in Charity Gaming laws. In addition, the Governor and both chambers concluded that Indiana needed an organized and concerted effort to combat illegal gambling. Thus, 1510 created two new divisions under the Commission’s jurisdiction. The first is the Gaming Control officers who possess full law enforcement powers but will be assigned with an original focus on illegal slot machines commonly referred to as “Cherry Masters”. Col. Larry Rollins, formerly with the Indiana State Police, accepted the responsibilities as Director of the Division and is currently recruiting, hiring and training an additional fifteen officers. The second division is that of License Control Counselor. Upon determination of a gambling law violation, the Counselor will be empowered to prosecute a regulatory action seeking to revoke a Charity Gaming license, retail merchant’s sales certificate, an alcohol license or a tobacco sales permit. Jeff Gill, Executive Director of Indiana’s Executive Branch Lobbying, has agreed to assume the position.

Finally, Senate Bill 128 was requested by the IGC, ATC and DNR in order to modernize the state Excise Police, Gaming Agent and Conservation Enforcement Officers Retirement Fund. Under the legislation, employees’ contributions were raised from 3% of the first $8,500 of salary to 4% of the total salary in exchange for increased benefits.

FY 2008 promises to provide the Indiana Gaming Commission with expanded responsibilities and duties. It is our pledge, however, to remain loyal to our primary mission of assuring the citizens of Indiana that gaming in our state will be conducted legally within the strict letter of the law and with unquestioned integrity.

Respectfully Submitted,

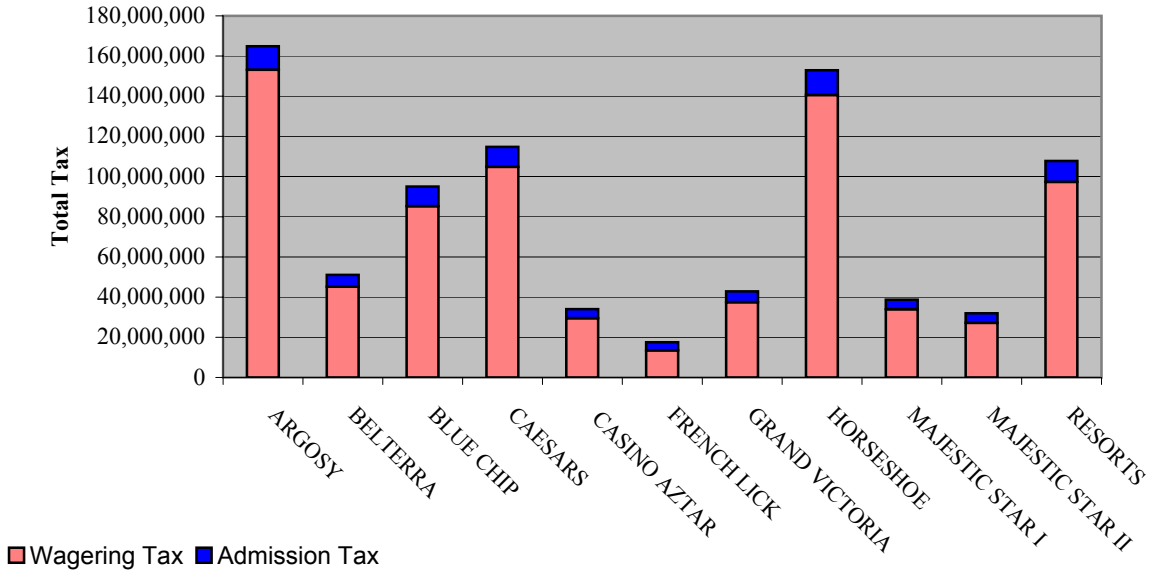

FY 2007 TAX OVERVIEW

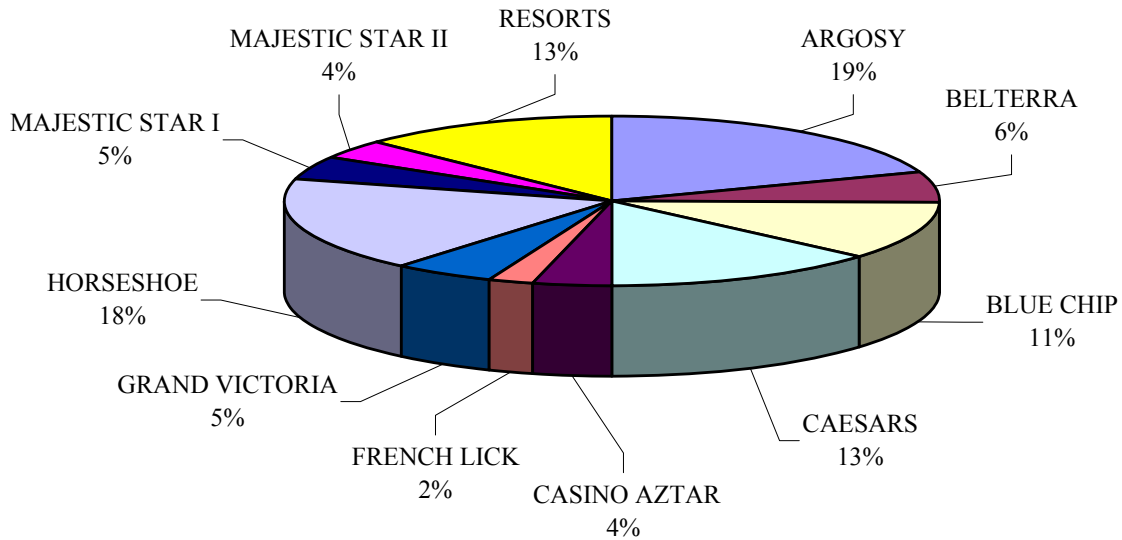

In FY 2007, riverboat gaming operations in Indiana generated $767,863,554 in wagering tax, and $83,617,133 in admission tax, for a tax total of $851,480,687.

VOLUNTARY EXCLUSION PROGRAM

The Voluntary Exclusion Program (VEP) allows individuals who recognize their gambling problem to self-exclude from Indiana casinos.

Angela Bunton
VEP Coordinator

The primary goal of the Voluntary Exclusion Program is to address problem gambling in Indiana. The VEP allows individuals who recognize their gambling problem to self-exclude from Indiana casinos.

Purpose

The IGC has administered the Voluntary Exclusion Program since its inception in 2003. Individuals wishing to exclude themselves from Indiana's casinos can do so in person at the IGC office in Indianapolis or at any Indiana casino. In order to qualify, the interested individual must fill out the Request for Voluntary Exclusion form in the presence of a gaming agent or an IGC staff member. The request form must be completed voluntarily, while not under the influence of alcohol, controlled substances, or prescription medication. The individual may elect exclusion for one year, five years, or life. The form and the identity of the applicant remain confidential. It is the participant's responsibility to avoid gambling.

Removal

A person electing the one-year or five-year exclusion option may request to be removed from the program at the end of the exclusion period. Participants wishing to be removed must complete a Removal form in the presence of a gaming agent or an IGC staff member. Upon IGC approval, the participant will be removed from the exclusion list.

MBE/WBE UTILIZATION

The Riverboat Gambling Act encourages the use of minority and women's business enterprises.

Jenny Arnold
Deputy Director

Minority and Women Business Enterprise Issues

The Riverboat Gambling Act contains provisions regarding the use of minority business enterprises (MBE) and women's business enterprises (WBE) in the riverboat industry. Only purchases made from certified MBEs and WBEs may be counted toward credit for statutory compliance. The Department of Administration's Minority and Women's Business Enterprise Division is the agency responsible for certification of MBEs, WBEs, and disadvantaged business enterprises. The riverboats are required to file a report with the IGC in January of each year containing a summary of expenditures made in the previous calendar year. Within these reports, each riverboat details the amount of its overall expenditures paid to certified MBEs and WBEs. They also file quarterly reports.

The Center for Urban Policy and the Environment recently completed a statistical study on behalf of the IGC. The study details the disparity between the percentage of total purchases that are made from certified MBEs and WBEs and the capacity of those companies to provide goods and services to Indiana casinos. The IGC is scheduled to establish MBE and WBE utilization goals by September of 2007. The table displays the MBE and WBE utilization percentages for 2006.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

The IT staff assists with the technological needs of the Indiana Gaming Commission.

Tom S. Stuper
Systems Administration Manager

Robert Paugh
*Application System Analyst/

Michael Stokes
Application Developer Sr.

In FY 2007, the Information Technology Division played a significant role in various IGC projects. IT completed the development and implementation of the Purchasing Tracking System, which allows the Indiana casinos to quickly and efficiently submit data to the IGC about their MBE/WBE transactions. In turn, this information is being used by the IGC and consultants as a central component of the five year disparity study.

New computer systems and hardware were installed at French Lick. The IT division was actively involved in this process and in the necessary training of software users. Similarly, the new Gaming Agent Division also required fresh hardware and training in the Occupational License (OCCLIC) and Electronic Gaming Device System (EGDS) programs.

IT also had the responsibility of handling in-house computer needs. The Charity Gaming Division's transition to the IGC meant that their applications had to be updated to run on the servers provided by the Indiana Office of Technology. The IT Division provided additional assistance through the implementation of various upgrades to help track charity gaming licenses.

Audit Division

The Audit Division examines daily tax filings, approves internal controls, and audits the casinos for compliance.

FY 2007 proved to be a busy one for the Audit Division. With the opening of the new French Lick in Orange County, the Audit Division tackled an increased workload to accompany its already busy schedule. Staff members spent almost three weeks working to approve procedures and internal controls at the new casino.

As standard procedure, each of the 11 Indiana casinos must file a daily tax return. IGC auditors coordinate with the Department of Revenue (DOR) to ensure that each casino's daily tax payment is accurate and timely. The casinos sent tax payments to the DOR, which then reports these amounts to the IGC. IGC auditors then audit each tax filing. They also send reports to the IGC at the end of each month detailing all fiscal activity that occurred during that month. The Audit Division reviews these reports, checking for discrepancies between the daily and monthly figures.

The Audit Division also performs unannounced program audits on each of the Indiana casinos. During an unannounced program audit, auditors travel to a casino and check all departments within that casino for compliance. Program audits usually take a week to complete. If discrepancies are found, IGC auditors perform a follow-up audit within 90 days to ensure that the casino made the necessary changes to guarantee compliance with state regulations for casino operations.

Finally, the Audit Division publishes a monthly revenue report that details the casino revenues and tax money generated through admission and wagering. The monthly reports are open to the public and can be accessed at the IGC website.

COMPLIANCE DIVISION

The Compliance Division monitors the activities of the Indiana casinos to be sure they are in compliance with Indiana statutes and regulations.

Chris Gray
Director of Compliance

Composition

The Compliance Division, comprised of the Director of Compliance, the Promotions/Compliance Coordinator, and the Electronic Gaming Devices (EGD) Compliance Manager. Compliance is responsible for the regulation of promotions, EGDs and the direction of the Compliance Committee.

The Compliance Committee contains all the members of the Compliance Division, as well as select representatives from the Audit and Legal Divisions and the Division of Gaming Agents. The Committee meets regularly with the goal of optimizing the efficiency and effectiveness of the regulatory process.

Committee Activities

During FY 2007 the Committee made recommendations on all pending regulatory waivers and violations. During this time, the Committee issued 145 recommendations covering issues such as rule waiver requests and rule changes, as well as policy directives and disciplinary actions against riverboat licensees.

As part of an ongoing process, the Committee continues to review administrative rules with the purpose of eliminating redundancies and conforming rules to changing industry technology. The Committee continues to streamline the regulation of riverboat gambling in the state by establishing consistent fine structures and regulatory procedures.

Electronic Gaming Devices

FY 2007 was the second year that the Compliance Division was responsible for oversight of the Electronic Gaming Device System (EGDS). The EGDS contains a catalog of all approved Electronic Programmable Read-Only Memory (EPROM) chips along with associated hardware and software. The Compliance staff also monitors the movement, purchase, and sale of EGDs, ensuring that only authorized parties are involved in the process.

The Compliance staff stays in frequent contact with EGD manufacturers and casino gaming labs to ensure that the IGC is always aware of the latest technologies in electronic gaming. Through communications with these parties, as well as EGD managers at the casinos and the Gaming Enforcement Division, the Compliance Division ensures all EGDs are in compliance at Indiana's casinos.

Promotions

In order to maintain the integrity of riverboat gaming in Indiana, all promotional activities conducted by riverboat licensees are subject to review by the IGC.

All gaming related promotional activities, such as any tournament involving EGDs, tournaments, or table games, must be approved by the Promotions/Compliance Coordinator. Any non-gaming related promotional activities, such as concerts, giveaways, or parties, need only be stamped as reviewed by the Promotions Coordinator.

In FY 2007, the IGC received 1,012 submissions. Of those, 999 resulted in a favorable review by the IGC staff.

LEGAL DIVISION

The division acts on behalf of the Executive Director and the Commission with regard to a number of legal-related tasks such as licensing of casino employees and casino-affiliated companies, conducting waiver hearings, maintaining the exclusion list, reviewing new game proposals, pursuing disciplinary actions, and proposing new or revised rules that govern the gaming industry in Indiana.

Phil Sicuso
General Counsel

Andrew Klinger
Deputy General Counsel

The Legal Division's support functions include defending the agency in employment disputes, monitoring and managing the defense of the agency in litigation, negotiating and executing agency contracts and memoranda of understanding, handling ethics issues, and drafting resolutions and orders for Commission business meetings. Commission attorneys also research time sensitive issues regarding legislation, regulation, and licensing as necessary.

Litigation

The Legal Division monitored and managed a number of ongoing litigation concerns in FY2007 in coordination with the Office of the Attorney General and outside counsel. Two legal actions were concluded in the past year. In a Dearborn County quiet title action, the court dismissed the case against the State (including the IGC) on the State's motion. A judicial review action brought by the City of East Chicago against the Commission in Lake County was voluntarily dismissed. Issues surrounding the East Chicago license and the casino's Local Development Agreement with the City of East Chicago remain in litigation in Marion County Superior Court and the Indiana Court of Appeals.

Occupational Licensing

Rules

The legal staff continued to review the Commission's regulations, update rules to reflect shifting policies, new technologies, and changing industry standards. In FY 2007, the Commission amended weapons restrictions at riverboat casinos, allowing express companies to access Indiana casinos with armed security guards. The general ban against weapons remains in place. The Commission also amended regulations to address the transfer of enforcement functions at Indiana casinos from the Indiana State Police to the Commission's Gaming Agents.

In response to the transfer of regulatory authority over charity gaming functions from the Department of Revenue to the Commission in FY 2007, the legal staff prepared and the Commission adopted new regulations governing charity gaming in Indiana. The regulations were designed to conform to changes in the statute and to reflect the change in administration of charity gaming functions.

Finally, the Commission adopted an emergency rule that provides procedures by which the Commission may remove an excluded person from the exclusion list. The legal staff has begun formally promulgating permanent rule changes on exclusion-related issues.

Public Records

In FY 2007 the Legal Division hired an information analyst. The information analyst serves as the gatekeeper for all public records requests submitted to the IGC and ensures that they are responded to in an expeditious manner. The information analyst also works closely with the Legal Division to identify, locate, and prepare responsive documents for their release, while withholding information that is confidential pursuant to the Access to Public Records Act.

Furthermore, the information analyst works to eliminate superfluous documents to produce a more efficient and productive office. As part of this endeavor, the information analyst works with the agency to create a comprehensive agency-specific retention schedule as well as an electronic document management system to further eliminate an abundance of paper in the agency and its satellite offices.

DIVISION OF GAMING AGENTS

The Division of Gaming Agents is responsible for enforcing regulatory and criminal statutes connected with the operation of Indiana casinos.

Kevin Mahan
Superintendent, Division of Gaming Agents

Ken Rowan
Enforcement Director

In 2005, the Indiana General Assembly mandated changes to the structure of the IGC's investigative and enforcement code. Duties that previously were carried out by the Indiana State Police are now handled by Gaming Enforcement Agents. As of March 17, 2007, the Gaming Enforcement Agents have control of all 11 casinos and the Division is responsible for all investigations related to the operation of the casinos. Five recruit classes have completed training, including three classes in FY 2007. The IGC now employs 128 Gaming Enforcement Agents and 10 investigators, as well as the four Division directors. The Division of Gaming Agents is broken down into two sections: investigation and enforcement.

Enforcement

The main responsibility of the Gaming Enforcement Agents is to ensure casino gaming is conducted in strict compliance with the laws and regulations of Indiana. The Enforcement section consists of 128 Gaming Enforcement Agents who are responsible for investigating gaming crimes and regulatory issues, as well as criminal investigations. In the regulatory aspect, they obtain advanced knowledge of the internal controls of their assigned casino. They also conduct thorough testing of electronic gaming devices and other gaming equipment at the casino. In the criminal aspect, the agents are required to perform general police duties at their assigned casinos.

Enforcement (cont'd)

As of March 17, 2007 the gaming agents have taken over the enforcement duties for the Indiana State Police at all eleven Indiana casinos. The specialized training they received allows the Agents to use their expertise to detect and investigate gaming crimes. They serve as the on-site regulatory staff for the Indiana Gaming Commission, ensuring that casino gaming operations comply with Indiana law, Commission regulations, and casino specific internal controls.

Investigation

FY 2007 was the first full fiscal year for the Investigation Section of the Division of Gaming Agents. The two directors of the section, James Beebe and Garth Brown, and the ten investigators are responsible for several significant tasks. In FY 2007, the section completed a total of 252 investigations. The investigations included Level I employees, eight supplier company investigations, as well as reinvestigations for Horseshoe, Caesars, Majestic Star I, and Majestic Star II casinos. The section also investigated Columbia Sussex's purchase of Casino Aztar in Evansville.

Like most Divisions in the IGC, the Division of Gaming Agents saw an increased workload with the debut of the French Lick Casino. All key employees and personnel for the casino were investigated and interviewed. During FY 2007, the Investigation Section also re-wrote the license applications for the three levels of licensure.

The IGC receives reimbursement from applicants for hours spent working on their investigations. In FY 2007 a total of 12,016 investigative hours were logged, and the billable rate was 75.2% of time worked.

Charity Gaming Division

Indiana Code 4-32.2 allows bona fide religious, educational, senior citizens, veterans or civic organizations, and political organizations to conduct charitable gaming.

Mark Mitchell
Director of Charity Gaming

In July 2006, pursuant to House Enrolled Act 100, the General Assembly passed legislation transferring oversight of charity gaming from the Indiana Department of Revenue to the Indiana Gaming Commission. The new statute gave the IGC the sole authority to license and monitor charity gaming and to enforce the charity gaming act. The reassignment of charity gaming oversight also included the transfer of 14 staff positions. Since the transition, the Commission created two full-time permanent clerical positions which were needed to support the seven analysts, filled a vacant field investigator position, and created an Administrative Assistant 3 position. The IGC has also substantially overhauled charity gaming regulations governing charity gaming; those regulations were adopted and went into effect on June 29, 2007.

Diane Freeman
Assistant Director of Charity Gaming

The Charity Gaming Act prohibits any entity other than an organization that has been determined by the IGC to be a qualified organization from conducting an allowable event. Qualified organizations include bona fide political organizations and state educational institutions, as well as bona fide religious, educational, senior citizens, veterans or civic organizations that: (a) are exempt from taxation under Section 501 of the Internal Revenue Code; (b) operate without profit to the organization's members; and (c) have been continuously in existence in Indiana for at least five (5) years or is affiliated with a parent organization that has been in existence in Indiana for at least five (5) years. An allowable event is an event such as a bingo, raffle, door prize, charity game night, festival, and the sale of pull tabs, punchboards, and tip boards, as well as any activity that the IGC designates as an allowable event, such as a rubber duck race.

To conduct an allowable event, a qualified organization must have received a license from the IGC unless the value of the prizes awarded at the event does not exceed $1,000 for a single event or $3,000 over the course of a calendar year. The IGC is also authorized to license manufacturers and distributors of equipment necessary to conduct allowable events, such as prize wheels and bingo equipment and supplies.

Currently, 2,498 organizations are qualified to conduct charity gaming in Indiana. Of that number, 226 of these organizations have been qualified since oversight of charity gaming was transferred. Sixty Five entities are licensed as either manufacturers or distributors. In FY 2007, the IGC issued 2,604 allowable event licenses. Applications for 444 non-licensed events were approved for the same period. In FY 2007, the IGC collected $4,602,650 in gaming license fees and $254,000 in manufacturer and distributor license fees.
