August 17-20, Downtown Indianapolis

The 2011 Indiana Emergency Response Conference offers something for everyone on a common ground. By participating, you'll be taking the initiative of going above and beyond required training. The conference will avail you exposure to an even greater wealth of information and experience through the sharing of ideas, discovering the best and latest innovations in rescue and law enforcement, and promoting kinship with your fellow first responders.

This year, the conference is offering new educational tracks for EMS personnel and even a FREE Educational Day on Wednesday, August 17 featuring Randolph Mantooth and Dr. Bryan Bledsoe. If you register in advance for these classes, you'll have the opportunity to participate in a Meet and Greet with both of them!
