Greetings public safety professionals,

During the week of Super Bowl, the Indiana Department of Homeland Security will be open for business as usual, however, traffic in the Indianapolis area will be highly congested and parking will be at a premium. If at all possible, we recommend you conduct any business with the agency prior to or following the Super Bowl week.

The IDHS Preparedness and Training Division, including the Fire and EMS Certification Section, will maintain the following office hours:

January 30th-February 1st: 8:00am-4:30pm
February 2nd, 3rd, and 6th: 7:00am-3:30pm (Note Adjusted Hours)
February 7th return to normal business hours

Emergency medical services recertifications can be completed online at <http://acadis.in.gov/acadis/Authenticate/login.aspx>.

If you need assistance, please call the IDHS main desk at 317-232-3980. For more information on Super Bowl traffic patterns and parking restrictions, visit <http://www.indianapolissuperbowl.com/>.

Professionally,

Michael S. Garvey
Chief of Staff

Indiana Department of Homeland Security
