Hunting, Fishing, Trapping on Private Land

Outdoor enthusiasts hoping to fish or hunt on private land can use this handy Permission To Access Private Land form. The form is not required but should help landowners feel more comfortable when allowing hunting, fishing or trapping on their land.

The document provides landowners with an explanation of the laws regarding landowner consent and relief from liability when allowing hunting, fishing or trapping on their land.

The form also provides proof of permission to hunt, fish or trap on a listed property. The form should be completed and signed by both parties, and retained according to the instructions. Be courteous, safe and thoughtful when hunting, fishing or trapping on private land.

For more hunting on private land information, go to wildlife.IN.gov

Permission To Access Private Land Form

TO BE RETAINED BY THE RECREATIONAL USER

According to Indiana Code 14-22-10-1, a person may not fish, hunt, trap, chase; shoot with any kind of firearm or archery equipment; search for or gather any plant life; or search for or gather any artifacts upon privately owned land without having the consent of the owner or tenant of the land. For more information, contact the Division of Law Enforcement at (317) 232-4010.

tion card is also available on this site. The class schedule is updated frequently, so check back if you do not find a class that fits your needs, or call (317) 232-4010.

Immerse yourself in the EXPERIENCE

Mix a little archery and target shooting with mountain biking, fly fishing, hiking, kayaking, horseback riding, camping or just about any other outdoor activity you can imagine and what do you have?

The Hoosier Outdoor Experience.

The inaugural Experience is scheduled for Sept. 26-27 at Fort Harrison State Park, a 1,700-acre oasis of woods, water and open green spaces on the outskirts of Indianapolis.

There's never been an event like this in Indiana – two full days to wrap your arms around the great outdoors with hands-on educational opportunities and skill-building activities while focusing on natural resource conservation, outdoor ethics and responsibility.

This large-scale event will have something for everyone, whether you're a newcomer seeking entry-level information or an experienced outdoor enthusiast looking to recharge your spirit and appreciation of the natural world.

Presented by the Indiana Department of Natural Resources and the Indiana Natural Resources Foundation, the Experience brings together the DNR and dozens of support groups representing diverse outdoor recreational interests.

And here's perhaps the best part – parking and admission to the Experience and access to all activities, demonstrations and seminars are free to the public.
