

Governor Daniels' statement regarding SEA 382:

“No action of this General Assembly has greater potential for job creation than SEA 382. The Illiana Expressway in northwest Indiana and the Ohio River Bridges in southeast Indiana are long-sought major infrastructure projects with the potential for significant economic impact. This bipartisan legislation enables the use of public-private partnership financing options, which are the only practical means of making them happen. While other states are shuttering their highway programs, Indiana is shattering all records for infrastructure investment, and this could extend that record with enormous benefit to Hoosiers at opposite corners of our state.”
