If cancellation of your previous resident license cannot be verified on the national producer database, then a Letter of Clearance from the previous state will also need to be submitted.

- Other states may require your resident Indiana license to be cancelled or an Indiana Letter of Clearance to be issued to you in order to obtain a resident license in that state. To cancel your Indiana license or obtain a Letter of Clearance from IDOI, please submit the Service Request Form to the department.

- How do I renew my producer license?

- You may renew your license online at www.sircon.com/Indiana or www.nipr.com or by mailing the uniform NAIC paper renewal application and fee by check or money order made payable to Indiana Department of Insurance. The uniform NAIC paper renewal applications may be accessed online at www.naic.org/paper_licensing/maps_paper_licensing.htm.
- Renewal invoices are generated and emailed as a courtesy 60 days in advance of the license expiration date.

- I tried to renew through Sircon, but it couldn't find my invoice.

- Start from the Sircon home page, select "Renew or Reinstate a License," select Individual or Firm, enter your email address, then select the "Search for a specific license" link.
- If your license has become inactive within the past year you will need to reinstate it; do not reapply.
 - For your particular license reinstatement procedures, go to www.in.gov/idoi/2966.htm.

- What if I didn't get my renewal notice?

- Renewal reminders are sent by email only.
 - If you do not have a correct business email address on file with the department, no notice will be sent. There is a possibility of an address violation for failure to notify the department of an email address.

Renewal notices are sent as a courtesy by the department. It is the responsibility of producers to complete any required continuing education and submit their online renewal applications on time.

- If you have completed all continuing education requirements for your license and are within 30 days of your expiration date, your renewal invoice will still be open online to be paid.
 - If you need an extension to complete your CE requirements, please submit the CE Extension Request Form and fee before the expiration of your license. The CE Extension Request Form is posted online at www.in.gov/idoi/2760.htm.
