NATURE OF BUSINESS RELATIONSHIP WITH AGENCY:

The National Association of Commissions for Women (NACW) is the professional association for commissioners and staff of commissions for women/commissions on the status of women throughout the country. The executive director of the Indiana Commission for Women (ICW), Kristin Garvey, served as vice president on the NACW board of directors with conference planning oversight. In October 2015, the ICW Board of Commissioners voted to permit Garvey also to serve as administrative support and registrar for the 2016 conference based on NACW's agreement to reimburse Garvey for registration, airfare, and hotel. Other incidental expenses are still to be reimbursed by ICW.

STATE WHY ACCEPTANCE IS IN PUBLIC INTEREST:

The annual conference provides an opportunity for NACW members, peers, and other registrants to share best practices and learn about issues facing women and girls. Members discuss new and innovative ways to support women and girls, to strengthen Commission operations, and to network with other women's commissions. In addition, ICW can use the funds designated for travel reimbursement for other programming initiatives.
