Join us at this year's Pinney Purdue Field Day to see a new program offered by the Indiana Wildlife Federation with help from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. The 1st of a six-part educational series will be held between the morning and evening sessions at the Pinney Purdue Ag Center.

Landowners of Northwest Indiana!

Because you are located in the Little Calumet-Galien watershed, you have a unique advantage for successful enrollment in conservation programs that pay incentives to help you enhance the water quality and wildlife habitat on your land.

Valuable Information for FREE

Take advantage of this great opportunity and join us! Wildlife biologists and other natural resource professionals will discuss the programs and practices you can use to help your working lands reach their greatest potential.

Please RSVP & join us! Online: www.indianawildlife.org
