
TITLE 329 SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT BOARDSECOND NOTICE OF COMMENT PERIOD

LSA Document #09-194

DEVELOPMENT OF NEW RULES AT 329 IAC 11.7 CONCERNING REGISTRATION OF FACILITIES THAT USE INDUSTRIAL PROCESS WASTE OR COMMERCIAL SOLID WASTE AS AN ALTERNATIVE FUEL SOURCEPURPOSE OF NOTICE

The Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) has developed draft rule language for new rules at 329 IAC 11.7 concerning registration, storage and operational standards, closure, and financial assurance for facilities that use industrial process waste or commercial solid waste as an alternative fuel source.

By this notice, IDEM is soliciting public comment on the draft rule language. IDEM seeks comment on the affected citations listed and any other provisions of Title 329 that may be affected by this rulemaking.

HISTORY

First Notice of Comment Period: March 25, 2009, Indiana Register (DIN: 20090325-IR-329090194FNA).

CITATIONS AFFECTED: 329 IAC 11.7.

AUTHORITY: IC 13-14-8-7; IC 13-15-2-1; IC 13-19-3-1; IC 13-19-4-10.

SUBJECT MATTER AND BASIC PURPOSE OF RULEMAKINGBasic Purpose and Background

IDEM staff have been contacted regarding the burning of solid waste streams as a fuel to offset the burning of coal. Under the current solid waste rules such activity would either have to be regulated as a solid waste incinerator or a solid waste processing facility or granted an exemption from the solid waste processing rules under 329 IAC 11-3-1(13) as a solid waste management activity that does not pose a threat to human health or the environment. None of these options are ideal as they represent, at one extreme, more regulatory burden than is needed and, at the other extreme, exemption from regulatory oversight. The purpose of this rulemaking is to develop a more appropriate regulatory tool for this activity that assures that best management practices are being utilized relative to the management of waste prior to burning without imposing excessive requirements that would hinder the beneficial use of waste materials as a fuel. The rule would also provide appropriate management practices for ash produced from the burning activity.

This rulemaking focuses on the storage and handling aspects of the waste utilized as fuel. Emission impacts from such burning are regulated by the Office of Air Quality and the Air Pollution Control Board.

IC 13-14-9-4 Identification of Restrictions and Requirements Not Imposed under Federal Law

The following element of the draft rule imposes either a restriction or a requirement on persons to whom the draft rule applies that is "not imposed under federal law" (NIFL elements).

NIFL Element (A) New rules at 329 IAC 11.7 concerning requiring registration, storage and operational standards, financial assurance, and closure for alternative fuel sources:

- (1) None of the requirements of this draft rule are required under federal law. However, activities proposed to be regulated by this rule would, absent this rule, be regulated under the solid waste processing facilities rule at 329 IAC 11, which would have more extensive and costly permitting requirements. IDEM has encountered several operations in the state involving the use of solid waste as an alternative fuel source. While these operations represent a relatively low level of environmental threat, they currently fall under the "solid waste processing facility" definition at 329 IAC 11-2-43 and are therefore subject to permitting requirements that can place a significant financial burden on operations. To encourage the development of these facilities and also to protect public health and the environment, this rule proposes registration and management standards that will ensure good environmental practices while reducing the regulatory burden that would result from such facilities having to get a solid waste processing facility permit. But for these rules, there would be a higher cost to comply with the solid waste processing facility rules.
- (2) There are no federal requirements for these operations. There is some fiscal impact associated with this rulemaking due to the cost of compliance with basic storage, operation, financial assurance, and closure requirements. However, the rulemaking provides relief to the regulated community from the requirement of obtaining a solid waste processing facility permit that costs $12,150 every five years and $2,000 every year for an operating fee paid to IDEM. In addition, there will be the costs of developing the permit application ($2,500-$25,000) and the cost of compliance ($5,000-$20,000). The cost for a surety bond as financial assurance under this draft rule will vary depending on the amount of waste handled and processed but the cost will be less than the cost of financial assurance under the permit rule at 329 IAC 11. A surety bond per facility per year under the registration may cost $500-$5,000, depending on the amount of waste received by the facility and the standing of the facility. It is unknown at this time how many facilities will be registered under this rule. This rulemaking allows for the registration of facilities using solid wastes as alternative fuel at no cost. There is some cost of compliance for planning, operational requirements, financial assurance, and closure.

(3) The information used to develop this rule comes from IDEM's implementation of the existing solid waste processing facility program and information provided by some of the facilities that would be affected by the rule.

Potential Fiscal Impact

There is some fiscal impact associated with this rulemaking due to the cost of compliance with basic storage, operation, financial assurance, and closure requirements. However, the rulemaking provides relief to the regulated community from the requirement of obtaining a solid waste processing facility permit that costs $12,150 every five years and $2,000 every year for an operating fee paid to IDEM. In addition, there are the costs of developing the permit application ($2,500-$25,000), and the cost of compliance ($5,000-$20,000). It is unknown at this time how many facilities will be registered under this rule. This rulemaking allows for the registration of facilities using solid wastes as alternative fuel at no cost.

There is minimal fiscal impact on the agency in terms of costs to process the registrations, and, in fact, there is a cost savings in comparison to processing a permit application.

Comments on the potential fiscal impact of the rule are requested.

 - (A) Tree limbs.
 - (B) Stumps.
 - (C) Leaves.

- (4) Processing and burning for fuel of manufactured wood waste for purposes of energy consumption on-site.

(b) If a facility is registered under this article, and accepts waste tires as an alternative fuel, then a registration is not required under 329 IAC 15. However, the facility must still comply with storage, operation, closure, and financial assurance requirements under 329 IAC 15 for tire processing prior to burning.
