SUMMARY OF FINDINGS UNDER IC 4-22-2.6-4

All of the rules listed above remain necessary and meet the standards of IC 4-22-2-19.5. 68 IAC 11 remains necessary to ensure that casino owners and licensees have in place internal control procedures to ensure and protect the fairness and integrity of gaming operations in Indiana. The rule also protects the assets of casino licensees, ensures that transactions are recorded properly, ensures only authorized personnel have access to casino licensee assets, and ensures that functions and duties performed by casino employees are performed in a sound manner.

68 IAC 14 remains necessary to ensure uniformity and clarity with regard to gaming equipment in Indiana.

68 IAC 15 remains necessary to ensure uniformity and clarity with regard to accounting records and procedures used by casino licensees. This protects the assets of casino licensees, ensures the reliability and accuracy of casino licensee financial records, and ensures that only authorized personnel have access to casino licensee assets.

No less costly or less intrusive alternative methods of achieving the purpose of the rule have been identified. The rules avoid duplicating any other standards, are written for ease of comprehension, and have practicable enforcement. There have been no significant changes to the cost benefit, fiscal impact, and regulatory burden analysis statements that were prepared for the initial adoption of the above rules.
