Affected: IC 25-9-1-18

Sec. 3. (a) The decisions of the judges shall be based primarily on effectiveness, taking into account the following points:

- (1) A clean forceful hit, landed on any vulnerable part of the body above the belt, should be credited in proportion to its damaging effects.
- (2) Aggressiveness is next in importance, and points should be awarded to the contestant who sustains the action of a round by the greatest number of skillful attacks.
- (3) Next in importance is sportsmanship. A contestant should be given credit for sportsmanlike action in the ring, close adherence to the spirit, as well as the letter, of the rules and for refraining from taking technical advantage of situations unfair to the opponent. Unsportsmanlike conduct or actions on the part of a contestant should likewise be taken into consideration and points deducted in accordance therewith.
- (4) Defensive work is relatively important, and points should be given for cleverly avoiding or blocking a blow.
- (5) Points should be awarded where ring generalship is conspicuous. This comprises the following points:
 - (A) The ability to quickly grasp and take advantage of every opportunity offered.
 - (B) The capacity to cope with all kinds of situations which may arise.
 - (C) To foresee and neutralize an opponent's method of attack.
 - (D) To force an opponent to adopt a style of boxing at which the opponent is not particularly skillful.
- (6) It is advisable to deduct points when a contestant persistently delays the action of a contest by clinching, holding, and lack of aggressiveness.
- (7) In order to arrive at a true conclusion, every point should be carefully observed and noticed as the round progresses. The winner of the round shall be the contestant receiving the largest number of points scored in that round. At the end of the contest, the contestant who has to his credit the greatest number of points is the winner of the match. Each round is to be accounted for on the scorecard in figures by the judges. The ten (10) point system shall be used. The score shall be in ratio of merit and demerit of the difference displayed by the contestants. For a draw or even round, ten (10) points shall be given each contestant, the difference in ratio as ten (10) to nine (9), ten (10) to eight (8), or ten (10) to seven (7), as the case may be. The points by which the decision has been reached must be clearly indicated on the scorecard which shall become a permanent record of the contest. When neither contestant has a decided margin in effectiveness, the winner should be determined on points scored, through aggressiveness and sportsmanship. At the conclusion of each contest, the judges shall draw a circle around the name of the winner. In case of a draw, the word "Draw" should be written across the card. In case of a knockout, the scorecard should be marked "K. O.", showing the round in which the knockout occurred. Scorecards should be signed and handed to the announcer. Judges and referees should be discreet at all times and not discuss their decisions, when made, with anyone during a contest.

(b) The commission reserves the right to announce the score of each judge at the end of each round. (State Boxing Commission; PT II, Sec 91; filed Aug 8, 1955, 1:00 p.m.: Rules and Regs. 1956, p. 71; filed Dec 1, 1992, 5:00 p.m.: 16 IR 1169; readopted filed Jun 8, 2001, 2:38 p.m.: 24 IR 3236)
