

Mark J. Wuellner
Deputy Chief of Staff
Indiana Lt. Governor Eric J. Holcomb

Mark J. Wuellner is the Deputy Chief of Staff for Indiana Lt. Governor Eric Holcomb. In this role, Mark oversees the staff who directs policy, communications, finance, operations, management and intergovernmental relations for the Lt. Governor's office and Family of Business agencies. Additionally, he serves as general counsel to four of those agencies—the Indiana State Department of Agriculture (ISDA), Indiana Office of Tourism Development (IOTD), Indiana Office of Defense Development (IODD) and the Office of Community and Rural Affairs (OCRA).

Mark previously served as the Deputy Executive Director, General Counsel and Chief of Staff at the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCDA) where he oversaw the agency's legal, human resources, communications, research and policy work. During his tenure, he championed initiatives focusing on agency culture and staff development, and worked to advance outcome-focused strategic priorities.

Prior to his work with the state, Mark practiced law at Bose McKinney & Evans LLP, an Indianapolis based law firm, where his practice included assisting businesses of all types and sizes with corporate governance, business transactions, mergers and acquisitions, private equity and securities offerings.

Mark earned his juris doctorate with a concentration in Public Law from Cornell Law School, where he served as a Notes Editor for the Cornell International Law Journal, attending the Cornell Summer Institute of International Law in Paris, France. He earned his bachelor's degree, cum laude, from Butler University.
