

Best Books of Indiana

2009 Historical/Biographical Nonfiction Entries

"There I Grew Up": Remembering Abe Lincoln's IN Youth	William W. Bartelt
Robert F. Kennedy and the 1968 Indiana Primary	Ray Boomhower
An Army in Skirts: The World War II Letters of Frances DeBra	Frances DeBra Brown
Drinking from the Saucer: A Memoir	Charlene C. Duline
It's A Mighty Thin Pancake (That Don't Have Two Sides)	Rexford C. Early
Red Skelton: The Mask Behind the Mask	Wes D. Gehring
Madame President, 1901-1905: Nellie Fairbanks	Lucy Jane King
Long Journey Home	James W. Brown & Rita Kohn
The Ripest Moments: A Southern Indiana Childhood	Norbert Krapf
The Eccentric Billionaire: John D. MacArthur – Empire Builder, Reluctant Philanthropist, Relentless Adversary	Nancy Kriplen
Racing in Place: Collages, Fragments, Postcards, Ruins	Michael Martone
Ready to Go: the History & Contributions of U.S. Public Health Advisors	Beth Meyerson
Indiana Political Heroes	Geoff Paddock
My Angels Are Come	Art Stump
The Terror of Terre Haute, Bud Taylor and the 1920s	John D. Wright