

BEST BOOKS of Indiana

2011 FINALIST
FOR FICTION

Bedlam at the Brickyard

Bedlam at the Brickyard is a mischievous and suspenseful series of short mysteries plotted within the hallowed grounds of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. A heart-pounding read for die-hard race fans and mystery fans alike, Bedlam lets you view the Brickyard in a way like never before. Editors Brenda Stewart and Wanda Lou Stewart did a fantastic job of compiling this collection of fifteen engaging stories that are all quite unique, while set during a very specific time and place. Bedlam at the Brickyard was an easy choice as a 2011 Best Books of Indiana finalist due to its distinctively-Hoosier theme & the unfailing excellence in storytelling from mystery to mystery.
