

Race into Reading suggested reading list

We hope this booklist will inspire your students to create colorful and imaginative bookmarks, as well as read a book that leaves a lasting impression on them. From race cars to bicycles to animals and athletes, these books with Indiana connections will get your students riled up for reading! We encourage your students to hurry to the library and check out these books with fast athletes, zippy race cars and speedy animals. How do you Race into Reading?

- “The Gingerbread Man” by Jim Aylesworth
“Clifford’s Field Day” by Norman Bridwell
“Clifford Makes the Team” by Norman Bridwell
“Clifford the Champion” by Norman Bridwell
“Clifford to the Rescue” by Norman Bridwell
“Slickety Quick Poems About Sharks” by Skila Brown
“Drive” by Nathan Clement
“Speed” by Nathan Clement
“Danica Patrick” by Abby Colich
“Giddy-up, Daddy!” by Troy Cummings
“All Aboard!” by Rebecca Kai Dotlich
“Race Car Count” by Rebecca Kai Dotlich
“Giant Squid” by Candace Fleming
“Sunny Boy! The Life and Times of a Tortoise” by Candace Fleming
“Zita the Spacegirl” by Ben Hatke
“Indy Cars” by Wendy Hinote Lanier
“The Escape” by Kathryn Lasky
“Tumble Bunnies” by Kathryn Lasky
“Little Red Gliding Hood” by Tara Lazar, illustrated by Troy Cummings
“Tulip at the Bat” by J. Patrick Lewis
“Subway Ride” by Heather Lynne Miller
“Hardwood Glory: A Life of John Wooden” by Barbara Olenyik Morrow
“Slugger” by Susan Pearson, illustrated by David Slonin

