Indiana State Board of Education Approves Teacher Preparation Programs

INDIANAPOLIS—The Indiana State Board of Education (Board) met virtually today for its May business meeting and approved teacher preparation programs at six higher education institutions around the state.

“Educating our future teachers is a critically important responsibility, and we are pleased to approve these great teacher preparation programs,” said B. J. Watts, board chair. “We are confident these universities have solid infrastructures in place and will do an excellent job preparing these future leaders.”

The approved programs are at Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, Indiana Wesleyan University, Marian University, Oakland City University, Taylor University, and the University of Southern Indiana. Details on the programs are available here.

The Board will hold its next meeting on June 3, 2020.
