- ▶ Bachelor of Science in Entrepreneurial Small Business Management Ms. Anita Wickersham
- In Jesus' parable of the talents, he taught the importance of being responsible with the opportunities you are given, so that in turn, you will gain more opportunities. The small business management program at Huntington University will help cultivate your entrepreneurial spirit and give you the skills necessary to be successful in a small business.
- The number of small businesses in the U.S. has increased by almost 50 percent over the past 20 years. There are approximately 22 million small businesses today. At Huntington University, you will gain the analytical and problem-solving skills necessary for success.
- You will take classes in a variety of academic disciplines, including management, accounting, economics, office administration and mathematics. You will develop business competence along with technical skill. You will receive a strong academic preparation using the same technology you'll encounter in the workplace. You will graduate with a broad, well-balanced education that expands your career opportunities and prepares you for graduate study.
- As a Huntington student, you can be mentored by successful business professionals through a variety of internship opportunities. Through our Executive-in-Residence Program and Visiting Executive Seminars, you will wrestle with contemporary business issues alongside fellow students, faculty and regional business leaders. You will be individually instructed by exceptionally credentialed faculty who will challenge you to think critically, work diligently and integrate faith with your studies.
- You will be challenged by classroom discussions with students, professors, and visiting executives from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences. You will learn alongside other students majoring in accounting, economics and finance, business education, management, and marketing. The department also offers minors in marketing, accounting, economics and finance, entrepreneurial small business, and management.
