IV. STATEMENT FROM THE CHAIR

All right, very good.

Before we move to Secretary Jenner’s comments, I want to take care of a couple of items.

First, thank you to Indiana University for hosting today’s meeting. You’ll hear more from them later in the program.

Second, although Jud is not here yet—he’s currently stuck in traffic on I-69—he will be joining us shortly. I want to take a moment to recognize his leadership. In 2024, under Jud’s guidance as Chair of the Commission, we made a pivotal decision: moving the Student Success Committee’s work into a Committee of the Whole rather than keeping it as a separate, independent committee. This has been a very positive change. It ensures that the critical work of supporting student success is fully integrated into the Commission’s agenda. It has also created a valuable platform for our institutions to showcase the innovative strategies they are using to promote student success and deliver high-quality outcomes.

Looking ahead to 2026, as many of you know, we will be making another change to improve and streamline our meetings. Beginning then, our meetings will be held at the Indiana State Library. While we will no longer be traveling around the state as we have in the past, we remain committed to hearing directly from institutions. We value their ability to come to us, share updates, and provide important information about their work in student success and other areas.

Once again, thank you to Indiana University for hosting today. You will be helping lead us through part of the discussion later in the meeting.

With that, I will now turn it over to Commissioner Secretary Jenner for her comments.
