ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The trial judges Resource Guide for Managing Complex Litigation (the “Resource Guide”) is based on the Federal Judicial Center’s Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth. The National Judicial College (NJC) wishes to acknowledge the use of that excellent publication. Both state and federal judges can benefit from using the Manual in tandem with the Resource Guide.

Funding for this project came from the following generous supporters:

- The Defense Research Institute
- International Academy of Trial Lawyers Foundation
- International Society of Barristers Foundation
- Verizon Communications
- NJC’s Pillars of Justice Fund Supporters*

 This Fund was created to provide our nation’s judiciary with innovative, results-oriented programs and tools that can be used to improve the delivery of justice. The NJC is indebted to the Fund for its foresight in supporting a publication that we hope will ultimately lead to improvement in the administration of justice in complex cases.*

The NJC extends a special “thank you” to The National Judicial College’s Board of Visitors which expressed the need for this Resource Guide. Their guidance and assistance in the development of this publication was invaluable. The Board of Visitors is a group of nationally prominent individuals who share in the NJC’s mission of advancing justice through judicial education. Members serve as a major resource of ideas for NJC’s programs and assist with fundraising efforts.

Pat Knighten, a former editor with Matthew Bender, served as the primary author and editor of the Resource Guide. She worked tirelessly through innumerable drafts to ensure that the Resource Guide is a helpful resource to state trial judges who handle complex litigation. Her professional demeanor helped the Board of Editors reach a consensus on many important matters.

The Board of Editors is comprised of the following individuals:

Michael W. Davis, Esq., Sidley Austin, LLP, Illinois
Hon. Allan R. Earl, Judge, Eighth Judicial District Court, Nevada
John P. Frantz, Esq., Verizon Communications, New Jersey
Hon. Helen E. Freedman, State of New York Supreme Court, Appellate Division, New York
Professor Michael D. Green, Wake Forest University, North Carolina
Hon. Ken M. Kawaichi, Judge (ret.), Alameda Superior Court, California
Hon. Joseph J. Maltese, Justice, State of New York Supreme Court, New York
Hon. Anthony J. Mohr, Judge, Los Angeles Superior Court, California

The NJC expresses tremendous gratitude to the Board of Editors for its invaluable assistance in producing the Resource Guide. The Resource Guide could not have been written without the members’ shared years of experience, knowledge, and skill, and their diligence in providing suggestions.

Finally, NJC thanks its staff for its efforts in refining the final product including Hon. William F. Dressel, president, Daphne Burns, program attorney, Christina Nellemann, graphic designer, and Trace Robbers, director of communications.
