Location: Commissioners Meeting Room, 2nd Floor, Courthouse

Surveyors Report

Crooked Creek Phase 1 – DNR reached out to let them know that as a county, we will file work requests through SEA. The request will then be reviewed, and they will let us know if we need a permit or must pay any fees. Crooked Creek Phase 1 does not require permitting through the Division of Water but has been handed over to the Corps. Goodwin spoke with the Corps last week and all the paperwork they requested has been submitted.

Crooked Creek Phase 2 – The removal of the log jams along Crooked Creek requires no approval from DNR or the Corps. Daming is asking if Keegan will do it for the agreed upon amount or does it need to be bid out?

Beaver Trapping – One of the trappers has started last week. As soon as the agreement is received, Daming will present for approval.

Sweezer Ditch – There are no updates as of right now due to the snow and rising water levels over the past month. They will continue to work on getting the elevation shot and a project plan put into place.
