

Indiana Pregnancy Promise Program

Promoting Recovery and Opportunity
Maternal Infant Support and Engagement

What is the Indiana Pregnancy Promise Program?

The Indiana Pregnancy Promise Program is a free, voluntary program for pregnant Medicaid members who are or have been impacted by substance use disorders. The goals of the Pregnancy Promise Program are for participants to:

- Enter prenatal care and address other health care needs
- Access treatment services to sustain recovery
- Receive ongoing support for the mother and infant during pregnancy and for the 12 months after
- Provide hope and set a strong foundation for the future

Why is the Indiana Pregnancy Promise Program important?

- Substance use disorder is a leading factor of maternal deaths in Indiana
- There are many effective ways to treat substance use disorder in pregnancy
- Treatment of substance use during pregnancy can reduce risks and harmful effects to mothers and infants

Who can participate?

The Pregnancy Promise Program is available to pregnant women in the state of Indiana. To be eligible, participants must meet the following criteria:

- Pregnant or within 90 days of the end of pregnancy
- Identify as having current or previous substance use
- Be eligible for or receive Medicaid health coverage

What are the Pregnancy Promise Program benefits?

- Connection: Participants in the Pregnancy Promise Program will be matched with a case manager. Case managers will offer confidential support during enrollment to be sure mothers and infants receive the care and resources they need to be healthy and well.
- Coordination: Pregnancy Promise Program case managers will work with participants and their team of doctors and providers to coordinate care and identify community resources for families.
- Prevention: By connecting pregnant women with health care and treatment as early as possible, the Pregnancy Promise Program aims to reduce and prevent the negative impacts of substance use to the parent and child.
