

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Mike <mpence1314@aol.com>
Sent: Sunday, April 27, 2014 7:19 AM
To: Brooks, Kara D
Cc: Smith, William A;Denault, Christina;Pavlik, Jennifer L
Subject: Re: FOX Sunday update

Thanks Kara

Sent from my iPhone

> On Apr 27, 2014, at 7:12 AM, "Brooks, Kara D" <kbrooks@gov.in.gov> wrote:
>
> Sir,
> FOX just moved you to the second segment. They are now leading with affirmative action and then a report on Ukraine. Your segment will follow Ukraine. You will still be solo on your segment and the topics will remain the same.
Your LIVE hit time is now 9:25 am.
> Thank you.
>
>
> Kara Brooks
> Press Secretary
> Office of Governor Mike Pence
> Sent from my iPhone

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Brooks, Kara D
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 3:27 PM
To: 'Matt Lloyd'; Denault, Christina
Cc: Mike Pence; Joshua Pitcock; Marc Short; Smith, William A
Subject: RE: national press coverage

The FOX producer told me this morning that Wendell Goler is putting together a package on Ukraine and is incorporating the Governor's speech into that story tonight. I believe his package is running at 6:00 p.m. EST.

From: Matt Lloyd [mailto:matthewhlloyd@]
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 2:53 PM
To: Denault, Christina
Cc: Mike Pence; Joshua Pitcock; Marc Short; Smith, William A; Brooks, Kara D
Subject: Re: national press coverage

Sorry--his speech will be a topic--not sure if it'll be during Baier's segment or second half of show during panel. They're still working on it. If I hear which block I'll def let you know.
M@

On Wed, Apr 16, 2014 at 2:48 PM, Denault, Christina <CDenault@gov.in.gov> wrote:
Matt, when you say "appearance on Fox" tonight do you mean a mention or an actual appearance?

Christy Denault
Communications Director

Sent from my iPhone

On Apr 16, 2014, at 2:44 PM, "Matt Lloyd" <matthewhlloyd@ > wrote:

Governor,

Here's the quick and dirty on coverage of your Berlin speech. I made sure everyone has your speech as delivered as well.

FOX's morning tip sheet gave you the lead. The below was featured on Fox's website with your photo and was linked on Drudge prominently this morning:

<http://www.foxnews.com/politics/2014/04/16/first-in-fox-news-first-pence-hits-obama-on-missile-shield-in-berlin-speech/>

FOX News First: April 16
By Chris Stirewalt

Buzz Cut:

- First in Fox News First: Pence hits Obama on missile shield in Berlin speech
- ObamaCare puts docs on hook

- O'Malley hints at plan for meaningful defeat
- Power Play: Bayou Battle
- Who could blame him?

FIRST IN FOX NEWS FIRST: PENCE HITS OBAMA ON MISSILE SHIELD IN BERLIN SPEECH

Gov. Mike Pence, R-Ind., will deliver a speech today at the historic Hotel Adlon by Berlin's Brandenburg Gate in which he will decry "Russian aggression" and call on President Obama to resurrect a planned missile-defense shield for Eastern Europe that Obama scrapped in 2009. Pence, who said he will make a decision on a potential 2016 presidential run in the coming months, is in Germany on a privately funded trade mission. But touting his decade on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Pence will strike a hawkish tone.

From the prepared remarks provided to Fox News First: "With Russian aggression on the rise, clearly conciliatory diplomacy has failed. While sanctions are of some value, in the interest of our alliance, I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses."

Missile shield - "And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran's ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin's annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe – especially Poland and the Czech Republic – to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region."

[Obama's approach - "Some presidents take their foreign policy from the idealism of Woodrow Wilson, some from the realism of Henry Kissinger. This is foreign policy from Monty Python." – George Will on "Special Report with Bret Baier."]'

You were featured on FOX around 9:15 with Hemmer and Stirewalt talking about your Berlin speech. Here is clip:

Fox News 4/16/2014 9:13:40 AM

Please follow the below link to the download site.

<http://mms.tveyes.com/MediaDownload.asp?MDID=3063023&MDS=4714>

Politico's Morning Score featured excerpt from your speech as well:

SNEAK PEEK - PENCE TALKS FOREIGN POLICY IN BERLIN: Indiana Gov. Mike Pence is in Berlin today as part of his weeklong trade mission in Germany. He'll deliver a speech at the Hotel Adlon, right across the square from the Brandenburg Gate - where he'll talk foreign policy, one of his policy strengths and an area he'd likely showcase if he ran for president in 2016. Here's an advance look at what he'll say: "I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses. Europe and America should work together to strengthen our economic ties. ... And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran's ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin's annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe - especially Poland and the Czech Republic - to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region. Stronger economic ties and stronger defenses is the strategic response to Russian aggression."

Fox is telling me you will probably make an appearance on Special Report tonight as well....

That's all for now.

Danke,
Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Denault, Christina
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 2:49 PM
To: Matt Lloyd
Cc: Mike Pence; Joshua Pitcock; Marc Short; Smith, William A; Brooks, Kara D
Subject: Re: national press coverage

Matt, when you say "appearance on Fox" tonight do you mean a mention or an actual appearance?

Christy Denault
Communications Director

Sent from my iPhone

On Apr 16, 2014, at 2:44 PM, "Matt Lloyd" <matthewhlloyd@██████████> wrote:

Governor,

Here's the quick and dirty on coverage of your Berlin speech. I made sure everyone has your speech as delivered as well.

FOX's morning tip sheet gave you the lead. The below was featured on Fox's website with your photo and was linked on Drudge prominently this morning:

<http://www.foxnews.com/politics/2014/04/16/first-in-fox-news-first-pence-hits-obama-on-missile-shield-in-berlin-speech/>

FOX News First: April 16
By Chris Stirewalt

Buzz Cut:

- First in Fox News First: Pence hits Obama on missile shield in Berlin speech
- ObamaCare puts docs on hook
- O'Malley hints at plan for meaningful defeat
- Power Play: Bayou Battle
- Who could blame him?

FIRST IN FOX NEWS FIRST: PENCE HITS OBAMA ON MISSILE SHIELD IN BERLIN SPEECH

Gov. Mike Pence, R-Ind., will deliver a speech today at the historic Hotel Adlon by Berlin's Brandenburg Gate in which he will decry "Russian aggression" and call on President Obama to resurrect a planned missile-defense shield for Eastern Europe that Obama scrapped in 2009. Pence, who said he will make a decision on a potential 2016 presidential run in the coming months, is in Germany on a privately funded trade mission. But touting his decade on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Pence will strike a hawkish tone.

From the prepared remarks provided to Fox News First: "With Russian aggression on the rise, clearly conciliatory diplomacy has failed. While sanctions are of some value, in the interest of our alliance, I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses.”

Missile shield - “And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran’s ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin’s annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe – especially Poland and the Czech Republic – to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region.”

[Obama’s approach - “Some presidents take their foreign policy from the idealism of Woodrow Wilson, some from the realism of Henry Kissinger. This is foreign policy from Monty Python.” – George Will on “Special Report with Bret Baier.”]

You were featured on FOX around 9:15 with Hemmer and Stirewalt talking about your Berlin speech. Here is clip:

Fox News 4/16/2014 9:13:40 AM

Please follow the below link to the download site.

<http://mms.tveyes.com/MediaDownload.asp?MDID=3063023&MDS=4714>

Politico's Morning Score featured excerpt from your speech as well:

SNEAK PEEK - PENCE TALKS FOREIGN POLICY IN BERLIN: Indiana Gov. Mike Pence is in Berlin today as part of his weeklong trade mission in Germany. He'll deliver a speech at the Hotel Adlon, right across the square from the Brandenburg Gate - where he'll talk foreign policy, one of his policy strengths and an area he'd likely showcase if he ran for president in 2016. Here's an advance look at what he'll say: "I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses. Europe and America should work together to strengthen our economic ties. ... And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran's ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin's annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe - especially Poland and the Czech Republic - to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region. Stronger economic ties and stronger defenses is the strategic response to Russian aggression."

Fox is telling me you will probably make an appearance on Special Report tonight as well....

That's all for now.

Danke,
Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Hancock, Katelyn
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 12:24 PM
To: Pitcock, Josh
Cc: MRP;Denault, Christina;Smith, William A;Streeter, Ryan T
Subject: Re: FINAL: PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN

Printing this version now!

On Apr 16, 2014, at 6:20 PM, "Pitcock, Josh" <jpitcock@sso.org> wrote:

Katelyn - print this version. Please confirm.

Begin forwarded message:

From: "Cleveland, Bridget" <BCleveland@gov.IN.gov>
Date: April 16, 2014 at 12:08:10 PM EDT
To: "Denault, Christina" <CDenault@gov.IN.gov>, "Brooks, Kara D" <kbrooks@gov.in.gov>, "Streeter, Ryan T" <RStreeter@gov.IN.gov>, "Pitcock, Josh" <jpitcock@sso.org>
Subject: FINAL: PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN

FINAL below.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 16, 2014

Contact:
Kara Brooks
kbrooks@gov.in.gov

PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN

Governor Thanks Companies for Investing in Indiana, Calls for Greater Trade and Defense Cooperation

Berlin – On his third day in Germany, Governor Mike Pence offered remarks to a crowd of German business and government leaders at a Friends of Indiana gathering in Berlin. His remarks as prepared for delivery are below.

Pence Speech to Friends of Indiana Reception - Berlin
April 16, 2014

Welcome. It is exciting to see such a large crowd gathered here this evening. Germany's impact is strong in all corners of Indiana, and an impact of this magnitude deserves to be recognized. Before I proceed, I want to recognize the 110 German companies that have selected Indiana as a base for your United States operations. Many of you have so generously joined us tonight. We know that this, the week before Easter, is an important week for family time in Germany and thus your attendance tonight is very appreciated.

On behalf of the 12,500 Indiana workers who are employed by German businesses, I'm here to personally say "vielen Dank." Thank you for the confidence in our people, and thank you for committing to the business environment we have worked hard to build. In Indiana, our focus is always on what we can do to help businesses succeed. And be assured that Indiana knows that trade is a two-way street. As we express our thanks for your investment in Indiana, know that we will continue to encourage our companies to invest and do business in Deutschland – Europe's strongest economy!

Mutual goals connect us, from our economies to our cultures. Mutual character binds us, in our communities and families. The First Lady of Indiana, who joins me here tonight, found a creative way to highlight this truth through an art exchange. While I was in Aachen, she was in Cologne, the sister city of Indianapolis, Indiana's capital city. She presented the Museum Ludwig with an iconic statue from an Indiana artist that simply says love.

Germany is Indiana's third largest source of foreign investment and employment. Germany is also the third top importer of Indiana goods. Each year, Indiana exports more than $2 billion of merchandise to Germany, and that number continues to grow.

Indiana is a state that works. ("Ein staat der arbeitet.") As a state in the middle of America, we like to call ourselves the heart of the heartland. We are the home to the "metal industry" of the United States; we are the state with the highest density of manufacturing in the United States.

Indiana believes in balanced budgets and strong surpluses and reserves. Like Germany, fiscally sound policies are fundamental. In fact, 14 percent of our annual budget is in cash reserves, $2 billion, a position few states can claim. This strong cash position allows Indiana to make investments in education, infrastructure and to maintain business friendly policies. And just weeks ago, I signed into law legislation reducing the tax burden companies face in Indiana, giving us the second lowest corporate tax rate in the United States.

Indiana embraces German investment. This week we announced the expansion of two great German companies in Indiana – Norres in South Bend, VOSS in Ft. Wayne, with more good news expected by week's end. I want to recognize Jan Christoph Wiedemann, who heads Indiana's office here in Berlin and played a key role in these projects. Our office here demonstrates our commitment to, and the emphasis we place on, Germany.

Another connection is a little less tangible, but I've sensed it in everyone I've met. It is our common values. In America we speak of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. In Germany it is expressed as unity, justice, and freedom.

Today we gather in a capital city, in the landmark Adlon hotel in the shadow of the Brandenburg Gate. A city reborn after the tragedy of dictatorship and war...reborn as a unified free Berlin. Standing here, we are reminded of the lessons of the twentieth century.

Especially now, I believe it is imperative that we who believe in democracy and freedom, stand against the forces that would reshape Europe by aggression. As some claim territorial gains, they forfeit moral ground.

As governor of Indiana and as a former member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the United States Congress, I remember too well the efforts by the United States to "reset" our relationship with Russia just a few short years ago. I said then that, "History teaches us that weakness and appeasement invite aggression" and feared that our country was rewarding an increasingly antagonistic Russia.

With Russian aggression on the rise again, it is clear that our policy of conciliatory diplomacy has failed.

While new sanctions are of some value, in the interest of our alliance, I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses.

International trade is vital to our mutual prosperity and leads to good paying jobs on both sides of the Atlantic. Europe and America should work together to strengthen our economic ties by adopting the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership. Passage of TTIP will enhance and expand our economic partnerships and diplomatic ties, and I am committed to its passage. I was proud to join a group of 15 American governors in December 2013 to encourage its passage, and I ask each of you for your support as we move this agreement forward for both our countries.

Safeguarding freedom and security has been central to the mission of NATO and the prosperity of the West for more than half a century. With continued instability in the Middle East, and Putin's aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to strengthen our mutual security by deploying a robust missile defense in all of Europe – including Poland and the Czech Republic – to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region.

Stronger economic ties and stronger defenses are the right policy for our two countries and the right strategic response to Russian aggression.

I come here today to renew Indiana's commitment to Germany, and strengthen the role that Indiana plays in the German-American relationship. Germany is an important element of the economic success of Indiana. We remain dedicated to supporting the growth of German companies who call Indiana home and will continue to work to ensure that Indiana plays a widening role in Germany. I feel confident that our close relationship will continue to grow even stronger in the years ahead.

But I have also come here today to celebrate the progress of a great city and a great people.

The first time I came to Berlin was in 1977. Yours was a city divided. After spending the day in West Berlin, a city revived by Western investment from the Marshall Plan to the Berlin airlift, I made my way through Checkpoint Charlie into the grim reality of East Berlin. From the bright lights of West Berlin, I passed the Berlin Wall into a city and people trapped in the stifling air of Soviet repression. Because of the resilience and courage of the people of this great city, and because of the relentless support of the American people for a free and unified Berlin, division has given way to unity and freedom has replaced tyranny. America stood with you through it all...one president came to the Brandenburg gate, right beside this hotel, and said "Ich bin ein Berliner" and another came and said "tear down this wall." And the wall came down and freedom prevailed in this great city and this great country.

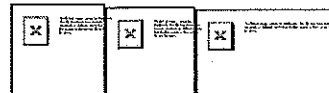

Whatever our momentary challenges, they pale in comparison to what we have overcome for freedom together.

Strengthened by the past and confident of the future, I know the best days for Indiana, America and Germany are yet to come.

Thank you for your friendship, and thank you for sharing a future with us defined by common values and the promise of a prosperous tomorrow.

May God in heaven bless the good people of Deutschland and the great state of Indiana now and always.

###

<image001.jpg>

<image002.jpg>

<image003.jpg>

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Pitcock, Josh <jpitcock@sso.org>
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 12:20 PM
To: Hancock, Katelyn;MRP;Denault, Christina;Smith, William A;Streeter, Ryan T
Subject: Fwd: FINAL: PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN
Attachments: image001.jpg; image002.jpg; image003.jpg

Katelyn - print this version. Please confirm.

Begin forwarded message:

From: "Cleveland, Bridget" <BCleveland@gov.IN.gov>
Date: April 16, 2014 at 12:08:10 PM EDT
To: "Denault, Christina" <CDenault@gov.IN.gov>, "Brooks, Kara D" <kbrooks@gov.in.gov>, "Streeter, Ryan T" <RStreeter@gov.IN.gov>, "Pitcock, Josh" <jpitcock@sso.org>
Subject: FINAL: PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN

FINAL below.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 16, 2014

Contact:
Kara Brooks
kbrooks@gov.in.gov

PENCE REMARKS AT 'FRIENDS OF INDIANA' GATHERING IN BERLIN

Governor Thanks Companies for Investing in Indiana, Calls for Greater Trade and Defense Cooperation

Berlin – On his third day in Germany, Governor Mike Pence offered remarks to a crowd of German business and government leaders at a Friends of Indiana gathering in Berlin. His remarks as prepared for delivery are below.

Pence Speech to Friends of Indiana Reception - Berlin
April 16, 2014

Welcome. It is exciting to see such a large crowd gathered here this evening. Germany's impact is strong in all corners of Indiana, and an impact of this magnitude deserves to be recognized. Before I proceed, I want to recognize the 110 German companies that have selected Indiana as a base for your United States operations. Many of you have so generously joined us tonight. We know that this, the week before Easter, is an important week for family time in Germany and thus your attendance tonight is very appreciated.

On behalf of the 12,500 Indiana workers who are employed by German businesses, I'm here to personally say "vielen Dank." Thank you for the confidence in our people, and thank you for committing to the business environment we have worked hard to build. In Indiana, our focus is always on what we can do to help businesses succeed. And be assured that Indiana knows that trade is a two-way street. As we express our thanks for your investment in Indiana, know that we will continue to encourage our companies to invest and do business in Deutschland – Europe's strongest economy!

Mutual goals connect us, from our economies to our cultures. Mutual character binds us, in our communities and families. The First Lady of Indiana, who joins me here tonight, found a creative way to highlight this truth through an art exchange. While I was in Aachen, she was in Cologne, the sister city of Indianapolis, Indiana's capital city. She presented the Museum Ludwig with an iconic statue from an Indiana artist that simply says love.

Germany is Indiana's third largest source of foreign investment and employment. Germany is also the third top importer of Indiana goods. Each year, Indiana exports more than $2 billion of merchandise to Germany, and that number continues to grow.

Indiana is a state that works. ("Ein staat der arbeitet.") As a state in the middle of America, we like to call ourselves the heart of the heartland. We are the home to the "metal industry" of the United States; we are the state with the highest density of manufacturing in the United States.

Indiana believes in balanced budgets and strong surpluses and reserves. Like Germany, fiscally sound policies are fundamental. In fact, 14 percent of our annual budget is in cash reserves, $2 billion, a position few states can claim. This strong cash position allows Indiana to make investments in education, infrastructure and to maintain business friendly policies. And just weeks ago, I signed into law legislation reducing the tax burden companies face in Indiana, giving us the second lowest corporate tax rate in the United States.

Indiana embraces German investment. This week we announced the expansion of two great German companies in Indiana – Norres in South Bend, VOSS in Ft. Wayne, with more good news expected by week's end. I want to recognize Jan Christoph Wiedemann, who heads Indiana's office here in Berlin and played a key role in these projects. Our office here demonstrates our commitment to, and the emphasis we place on, Germany.

Another connection is a little less tangible, but I've sensed it in everyone I've met. It is our common values. In America we speak of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. In Germany it is expressed as unity, justice, and freedom.

Today we gather in a capital city, in the landmark Adlon hotel in the shadow of the Brandenburg Gate. A city reborn after the tragedy of dictatorship and war...reborn as a unified free Berlin. Standing here, we are reminded of the lessons of the twentieth century.

Especially now, I believe it is imperative that we who believe in democracy and freedom, stand against the forces that would reshape Europe by aggression. As some claim territorial gains, they forfeit moral ground.

As governor of Indiana and as a former member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the United States Congress, I remember too well the efforts by the United States to "reset" our relationship with Russia just a few short years ago. I said then that,

"History teaches us that weakness and appeasement invite aggression" and feared that our country was rewarding an increasingly antagonistic Russia.

With Russian aggression on the rise again, it is clear that our policy of conciliatory diplomacy has failed.

While new sanctions are of some value, in the interest of our alliance, I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses.

International trade is vital to our mutual prosperity and leads to good paying jobs on both sides of the Atlantic. Europe and America should work together to strengthen our economic ties by adopting the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership. Passage of TTIP will enhance and expand our economic partnerships and diplomatic ties, and I am committed to its passage. I was proud to join a group of 15 American governors in December 2013 to encourage its passage, and I ask each of you for your support as we move this agreement forward for both our countries.

Safeguarding freedom and security has been central to the mission of NATO and the prosperity of the West for more than half a century. With continued instability in the Middle East, and Putin's aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to strengthen our mutual security by deploying a robust missile defense in all of Europe – including Poland and the Czech Republic – to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region.

Stronger economic ties and stronger defenses are the right policy for our two countries and the right strategic response to Russian aggression.

I come here today to renew Indiana's commitment to Germany, and strengthen the role that Indiana plays in the German-American relationship. Germany is an important element of the economic success of Indiana. We remain dedicated to supporting the growth of German companies who call Indiana home and will continue to work to ensure that Indiana plays a widening role in Germany. I feel confident that our close relationship will continue to grow even stronger in the years ahead.

But I have also come here today to celebrate the progress of a great city and a great people.

The first time I came to Berlin was in 1977. Yours was a city divided. After spending the day in West Berlin, a city revived by Western investment from the Marshall Plan to the Berlin airlift, I made my way through Checkpoint Charlie into the grim reality of East Berlin. From the bright lights of West Berlin, I passed the Berlin Wall into a city and people trapped in the stifling air of Soviet repression. Because of the resilience and courage of the people of this great city, and because of the relentless support of the American people for a free and unified Berlin, division has given way to unity and freedom has replaced tyranny. America stood with you through it all...one president came to the Brandenburg gate, right beside this hotel, and said "Ich bin ein Berliner" and another came and said "tear down this wall." And the wall came down and freedom prevailed in this great city and this great country.

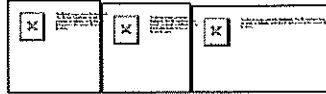

Whatever our momentary challenges, they pale in comparison to what we have overcome for freedom together.

Strengthened by the past and confident of the future, I know the best days for Indiana, America and Germany are yet to come.

Thank you for your friendship, and thank you for sharing a future with us defined by common values and the promise of a prosperous tomorrow.

May God in heaven bless the good people of Deutschland and the great state of Indiana now and always.

###

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Brooks, Kara D
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 3:27 PM
To: 'Matt Lloyd'; Denault, Christina
Cc: Mike Pence; Joshua Pitcock; Marc Short; Smith, William A
Subject: RE: national press coverage

The FOX producer told me this morning that Wendell Goler is putting together a package on Ukraine and is incorporating the Governor's speech into that story tonight. I believe his package is running at 6:00 p.m. EST.

From: Matt Lloyd [mailto:matthewhlloyd@]
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2014 2:53 PM
To: Denault, Christina
Cc: Mike Pence; Joshua Pitcock; Marc Short; Smith, William A; Brooks, Kara D
Subject: Re: national press coverage

Sorry--his speech will be a topic--not sure if it'll be during Baier's segment or second half of show during panel. They're still working on it. If I hear which block I'll def let you know.
M@

On Wed, Apr 16, 2014 at 2:48 PM, Denault, Christina <CDenault@gov.in.gov> wrote:
Matt, when you say "appearance on Fox" tonight do you mean a mention or an actual appearance?

Christy Denault
Communications Director

Sent from my iPhone

On Apr 16, 2014, at 2:44 PM, "Matt Lloyd" <matthewhlloyd@ > wrote:

Governor,

Here's the quick and dirty on coverage of your Berlin speech. I made sure everyone has your speech as delivered as well.

FOX's morning tip sheet gave you the lead. The below was featured on Fox's website with your photo and was linked on Drudge prominently this morning:

<http://www.foxnews.com/politics/2014/04/16/first-in-fox-news-first-pence-hits-obama-on-missile-shield-in-berlin-speech/>

FOX News First: April 16
By Chris Stirewalt

Buzz Cut:

- First in Fox News First: Pence hits Obama on missile shield in Berlin speech
- ObamaCare puts docs on hook

- O'Malley hints at plan for meaningful defeat
- Power Play: Bayou Battle
- Who could blame him?

FIRST IN FOX NEWS FIRST: PENCE HITS OBAMA ON MISSILE SHIELD IN BERLIN SPEECH

Gov. Mike Pence, R-Ind., will deliver a speech today at the historic Hotel Adlon by Berlin's Brandenburg Gate in which he will decry "Russian aggression" and call on President Obama to resurrect a planned missile-defense shield for Eastern Europe that Obama scrapped in 2009. Pence, who said he will make a decision on a potential 2016 presidential run in the coming months, is in Germany on a privately funded trade mission. But touting his decade on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Pence will strike a hawkish tone.

From the prepared remarks provided to Fox News First: "With Russian aggression on the rise, clearly conciliatory diplomacy has failed. While sanctions are of some value, in the interest of our alliance, I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses."

Missile shield - "And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran's ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin's annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe – especially Poland and the Czech Republic – to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region."

[Obama's approach - "Some presidents take their foreign policy from the idealism of Woodrow Wilson, some from the realism of Henry Kissinger. This is foreign policy from Monty Python." – George Will on "Special Report with Bret Baier."]'

You were featured on FOX around 9:15 with Hemmer and Stirewalt talking about your Berlin speech. Here is clip:

Fox News 4/16/2014 9:13:40 AM

Please follow the below link to the download site.

<http://mms.tveyes.com/MediaDownload.asp?MDID=3063023&MDS=4714>

Politico's Morning Score featured excerpt from your speech as well:

SNEAK PEEK - PENCE TALKS FOREIGN POLICY IN BERLIN: Indiana Gov. Mike Pence is in Berlin today as part of his weeklong trade mission in Germany. He'll deliver a speech at the Hotel Adlon, right across the square from the Brandenburg Gate - where he'll talk foreign policy, one of his policy strengths and an area he'd likely showcase if he ran for president in 2016. Here's an advance look at what he'll say: "I believe the United States and the EU must respond with deeds more than words to strengthen our economic and strategic defenses. Europe and America should work together to strengthen our economic ties. ... And, with continued instability in the Middle East, Iran's ongoing effort to develop long-range missiles and nuclear technology, and Putin's annexation of Crimea and aggression in Ukraine, I believe we must take immediate steps to deploy a robust missile defense in Europe - especially Poland and the Czech Republic - to protect the interests of our NATO allies and the United States in the region. Stronger economic ties and stronger defenses is the strategic response to Russian aggression."

Fox is telling me you will probably make an appearance on Special Report tonight as well....

That's all for now.

Danke,
Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: mrp
Sent: Saturday, April 12, 2014 3:51 PM
To: Mike Pence(personal)
Subject: Make Germany comments at reception

Sent from my iPhone

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Matt Lloyd <matthewhlloyd@[REDACTED]>
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2014 10:15 AM
To: Mike
Cc: Smith, William A;Pitcock, Josh;Marc Short;Pavlik, Jennifer L;Denault, Christina
Subject: Re: Fox News Sunday

Roger.

On Thu, Apr 10, 2014 at 10:12 AM, Mike <mpence1314@aol.com> wrote:

Excellent

Let's shoot for a few weeks out

Sent from my iPhone

> On Apr 10, 2014, at 9:41 AM, Matt Lloyd <[matthewhlloyd@\[REDACTED\]](mailto:matthewhlloyd@[REDACTED])> wrote:

>

> Governor--

> Fox called me this morning...Chris Wallace wants to take me up on my pitch to feature you and Indiana's success story. Know you're leaving for Germany Saturday so we can look at another date to make it work. Just wanted to make sure you knew you're back on their radar.

> Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Mike <mpence1314@aol.com>
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2014 10:12 AM
To: Matt Lloyd
Cc: Smith, William A;Pitcock, Josh;Marc Short;Pavlik, Jennifer L;Denault, Christina
Subject: Re: Fox News Sunday

Excellent
Let's shoot for a few weeks out

Sent from my iPhone

> On Apr 10, 2014, at 9:41 AM, Matt Lloyd <matthewhlloyd@[REDACTED]> wrote:

>

> Governor--

> Fox called me this morning...Chris Wallace wants to take me up on my pitch to feature you and Indiana's success story. Know you're leaving for Germany Saturday so we can look at another date to make it work. Just wanted to make sure you knew you're back on their radar.

> Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Marc Short <mshort@[REDACTED]>
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2014 9:44 AM
To: Matt Lloyd;Mike Pence
Cc: Smith, William A;Pitcock, Josh;Pavlik, Jennifer L;Denault, Christina
Subject: RE: Fox News Sunday

Awesome. May 11?

From: Matt Lloyd [mailto:matthewhlloyd@[REDACTED]]
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2014 9:41 AM
To: Mike Pence
Cc: bsmith@gov.in.gov; Pitcock, Josh; Marc Short; Pavlik, Jennifer L; Denault, Christina
Subject: Fox News Sunday

Governor--

Fox called me this morning...Chris Wallace wants to take me up on my pitch to feature you and Indiana's success story. Know you're leaving for Germany Saturday so we can look at another date to make it work. Just wanted to make sure you knew you're back on their radar.

Matt

Scott.A.Milkey

From: Denault, Christina
Sent: Thursday, February 20, 2014 4:48 PM
To: 'Mike'
Cc: Springer, Marilee J;Ahearn, Mark
Subject: DRAFT: Governor Pence Names Carol Stephan, Angela Weber to Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 21, 2014

Contact: Kara Brooks
kbrooks@gov.in.gov

Governor Pence Names Carol Stephan, Angela Weber to Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission

Indianapolis – Governor Mike Pence today named Carol Stephan and Angela Weber to the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC). Stephan's appointment will be effective March 3, and Weber's appointment will be effective March 10.

"Carol Stephan's extensive legal experience and background with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission will allow her to provide invaluable insight as a member of the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission," said Pence. "I am confident she will work tirelessly to ensure reliable services and reasonable prices for Hoosier utilities customers."

Carol Stephan, of Indianapolis, currently serves as Assistant General Counsel for the IURC. Stephan has previously served within State Government as General Counsel for the Indiana Office of Utility Consumer Counselor, Interim Deputy Commissioner and Director of Partner Services for the Indiana Department of Workforce Development, and Deputy Attorney General in the Bankruptcy/Inheritance Tax Division the in Office of the Attorney General of Indiana. She earned her undergraduate degree from Indiana University and her law degree from the Indiana University Robert H. McKinney School of Law.

"As evidenced by her service to both her country and state, Angela Weber has demonstrated time and again her dedication and passion for serving Hoosiers," said Governor Pence. "Her past experience will serve her well as a member of the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission, and I am grateful for her willingness to serve."

Angela Weber, of Indianapolis, currently works for Ice Miller, LLP. Prior to this role, Weber served in a variety of roles including as Staff Attorney in the Indiana Department of Education, Administrative Law Judge for the IURC, and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for the Marion County Prosecutor's Office. From 1996 to 2000, she served as a Russian Linguist/Voice-Intercept Operator for the United State Army. Weber is a graduate of Indiana University and the Indiana University Maurer School of Law.

On February 11, 2014, the IURC Nominating Committee put forth six candidates to fill current vacancies on the IURC created by the resignations of Commissioners Kari Bennett and Larry Landis.

"I extend my utmost appreciation to the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission Nominating Committee for their diligence, integrity and commitment to public transparency throughout this process," said the Governor.

Members of the Nominating Committee are Committee Chair Gwen Horth, Eric Scroggins, John Blevins, Larry Buell, Win Moses, Michael Evans, and Michael Mullett.

###

Scott.A.Milkey

From: mrp
Sent: Tuesday, February 18, 2014 6:26 AM
To: Mike Pence(personal)
Subject: Discuss staff to Germany

Sent from my iPhone

From: Pitcock, Josh
Sent: Thu 11/03/2016 8:22 PM (GMT-04:00)
To: "Mike Pence" <mpence1959@aol.com>
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: Fwd: Pitcock LLC Article
Attachments: pitcockllcresponse00001.docx; ATT0000100002.htm

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: "Lloyd, Matthew" <MLloyd@gov.IN.gov>
Date: November 3, 2016 at 6:08:22 PM EDT
To: "Pitcock, Josh" <jpitcock@ssq.org>
Subject: FW: Pitcock LLC Article

From: Ahearn, Mark
Sent: Thursday, November 03, 2016 6:04 PM
To: 'bbarrett@ap.org'
Cc: Lloyd, Matthew
Subject: Pitcock LLC Article

Brain,

Attached please find our response, as we discussed this morning, to the Brian Slodysko article. Thank you for the opportunity

Mark

Mark G. Ahearn
General Counsel to Indiana
Governor Mike Pence
Office: (317) 232-4579
Cell: (317) 6 [REDACTED]
Email: mahearn@gov.in.gov

This email is subject to attorney client privilege and may be for internal and deliberative decision making purposes. If you have received this email in error, I apologize - please delete and notify me at mahearn@gov.in.gov or call me at 317-232-4579. Thank you.

Disclaimer

The information contained in this communication from the sender is confidential. It is intended solely for use by the recipient and others authorized to receive it. If you are not the recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying, distribution or taking action in relation of the contents of this information is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful.

This email has been scanned for viruses and malware, and may have been automatically archived by Mimecast Ltd., an innovator in Software as a Service (SaaS) for business. Providing a safer and more useful place for your human generated data. Specializing in; Security, archiving and compliance. To find out more Click Here.

To: Brian Barrett, Counsel, AP
From: Mark G. Ahearn, General Counsel to Governor Mike Pence, Indiana
Date: November 3, 2016
Subject: Brian Slodysko Article re: Pitcock LLC Contract

Brian,
Thank you for taking the time to speak with us this morning.

The contract between Pitcock Consulting LLC and the State of Indiana was approved by the Indiana Attorney General's office and the Indiana Department of Administration BEFORE the contract was executed and BEFORE the State paid any money under the contract.

The stated intent and the agreement of the parties in the actual language of the contract establishes an independent contractor relationship – NOT an employment relationship. The AG would not have approved the contract otherwise because (as the AG says in its contract manual) an employment relationship creates serious IRS implications. There is no prohibition against Pitcock Consulting LLC having other clients. The State has not contracted to buy all his "output" (as a UCC goods contract might).

The two most recent Inspectors General for Indiana David Thomas and Cyndi Carrasco both agree and have told the AP that the Pitcock Consulting LLC is a professional, not personal, service contract and the rules some law professors think should apply, do not.

If the State believes it is not getting the services it is paying for from Pitcock Consulting LLC, the State's remedy is in breach of contract not in breach of the Executive Branch ethics rules.

This contract is absolutely legal and consistent with State contracting rules. There is nothing strange or out of the ordinary about it. It is the form for dozens and dozens of contracts just like it – including several I will mention below. To read it any other way as Brian's sources do flies in the face of the plain language of the document and is simply wrong; and I would suggest displays an ignorance of, or more charitably, an unfamiliarity with State contracting law and policy.

Brian, of our several concerns about how the Brian Slodysko article characterizes the Pitcock Consulting LLC contractual relationship with the State of Indiana, the most fundamental, inaccurate and unfair is the persistent and repeated accusation that Josh is somehow an employee of the State – despite the plain language of the contract.

The underlying assumption of the article is that Josh is an employee of the State of Indiana, which is factually incorrect and should never have been mentioned.

I cite the following references:

Slodysko tweet: "Pence says campaign aide who remains on state payroll . . ." (11/2/16)

Headline: "Trump-Pence campaign aide stays on Indiana payroll" (11/1/16)

Paragraph #2: "The dual, simultaneous employment of Joshua Pitcock . . ." I note here that in neither the Trump/Pence contract nor the State of Indiana contract is Pitcock an "employee" much less somehow engaged in simultaneous employment. Here, the article is wrong twice.

Paragraph #2: "A separate prohibition against moonlighting bans Indiana state employees . . . Note: This statement is true, it is just irrelevant to the Pitcock Consulting LLC contract as Josh is not an employee in the same way the lawyers, engineers, hydrologists, health specialists, accounts and accounting firms, public relations consultants, or university professors* under contract are not employees of the State of Indiana.

Paragraph #13: "Pence's spokesman, Matthew Lloyd, said the state was unconcerned about Pitcock's double employment." I assume these are Brian Slodysko's characterization, not Matt Lloyd's words.

Paragraph #15: "The AP began examining Pitcock's employment . . ."

Paragraph #16: "Indiana's administrative regulation prohibits any state officer, employee or special state appointee from working or directing others . . ." Note: Accurate but irrelevant to the Pitcock Consulting LLC and the hundreds of other professional service contracts as noted above.

A second and particularly egregious and unfair assertion is the following from the article:
"Indiana's inspector general, Cynthia Carrasco said Pitcock never sought a formal opinion from the state ethics commission about his double dipping." This statement attributed to the Indiana Inspector General is grossly misleading in even hinting that she, not Brian Slodysko, used the inaccurate term "double dipping."

*Finally the article quoted two university professors (and the AP appears to rely on them as experts) as follows:

"It is not in the statute, no one has raised it before and there is no existing case law that would recommend that a court accept that distinction." And in same quote: "Professional services are personal services and there is no logical reason under the statute to distinguish between the two." (Dau-Schmidt)

And

"I think you have an obligation to get an advisory opinion [.]” And in same quote: "If we're going to grant you the ambiguity, the way to resolve that is to get clearance, not just go forward in the face of that kind of uncertainty." (Orentlicher)

Among the State of Indiana's hundreds of professional service contracts are many current and open professional services contracts (all available on the Indiana Department of Administration's website) with Purdue University, the University of Indianapolis, the University of Southern Indiana, the University of Evansville (to name just a few) and several professional service contracts with "The Trustees of Indiana University" – the university of which both quoted professors are in fact, employees.

Surely these quoted professors do not consider the employees of their universities and all the other universities and entities who work on similar State of Indiana contracts to be employees of the State of Indiana.

Surely they are not advising their universities that there is no logical reason for those universities to distinguish between contracts that specifically create professional service independent contractors and those that turn university researchers, professors and staff into State of Indiana employees?

Will the quoted professors advise their universities that they "have an obligation to get an advisory opinion." And, if they are going to be "granted the ambiguity, the way to resolve that is to get clearance, not just go forward in the face of that kind of uncertainty."

If the quoted professors are correct (Brian Slodysko and his editor have been advised they are not), State of Indiana contracting law is vastly different than the Attorney General, Indiana Inspectors General, the Indiana Department of Administration and hundreds of contractors over many years have ever imagined.

In conclusion, it is accurate that Pitcock Consulting LLC has two independent contracts – one with the State of Indiana and one with the Trump/Pence campaign. He is an employee of neither and any assertion to the contrary is factually illogical, legally inaccurate, and recklessly reported. I have no idea whether the AP can repair any damage done to Pitcock's professional and private reputation by the Slodysko article, but the AP can certainly clean up the erroneous assertions it presented to the public about Josh being an employee of the State of Indiana.

Brian, please feel free to call if I can be of any assistance.

Thank you.
Mark G. Ahearn

From: Atterholt, Jim
Sent: Tue 12/27/2016 4:39 PM (GMT-05:00)
To: "Mpence Pence" <Mpence1959@aol.com>, "Jennifer Pavlik" <Jenpavlik77@[REDACTED]>, "Zach Bauer" <bauerzc@[REDACTED]>, "Czarniecki, Cary (Lani)" <LaniCz@gov.IN.gov>
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: Fwd: Bill Hudnut

Details on the funeral:

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: John Ryan-svdp <[REDACTED]>
Date: December 27, 2016 at 4:32:46 PM EST
To: jatterholt@gov.in.gov
Cc: bdavis@gov.in.gov
Subject: Bill Hudnut

* This is an EXTERNAL email. Exercise caution. DO NOT open attachments or click links from unknown senders or unexpected email. ****

Jim, Bev Hudnut has call me to ask if Gov. Pence is attending either the service in DC or Indianapolis. The service in DC is at Saint Columba Episcopal Church, 4201 Celbemarle Street, NW. on Wednesday, January 4 at 10:30AM.

The service in Indianapolis is at Second Presbyterian Church located at 7700 Meridian Street. The calling is from 3 to 8 PM on Friday, January 6. The Funeral service is on Saturday, January 7 at 11:00 AM. Hope all is well with you and your family. John

John P. Ryan
President, Society of St. Vincent de Paul
Indianapolis Council
(317) 924-5769 x 213 (Office)
(317) 6[REDACTED] (Cell)
jpryan.svdp@gmail.com

From: Mike
Sent: Mon 5/19/2014 3:39 PM (GMT-04:00)
To: "Christy Denault" <cdenault@gov.in.gov>
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: Please put this in a word document and forward from your email to Jennifer Rubin today. She requested it.

Address by Governor Mike Pence

20th Anniversary of State Partnership between Indiana National Guard & Armed Forces of Slovak Republic
Indiana War Memorial
Indianapolis, Indiana
May 17, 2014

Edited as delivered

"Thank you Colonel Todd Townsend [Vice Chief of Staff Army] for your kind introduction. To the Honorable Peter Kmec ([Ambassador of the Slovak Republic to the U.S.], Lt. General Milan Maxim [Chief of Defense of the Slovak Armed Forces], Major General R. Martin Umbarger, Major General Timothy Kadavy [Special Asst to the Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau], Major General Martin Babiak (Bab-E-yack), Indiana State Senator Tom Wyss (Wheese), Consul of the Slovak Republic in Naperville, Illinois Mrs. Rosemary Macko Wisnosky (Maatch-koVisnosky), Colonel Eric Ebb, all distinguished guests, and members of our Indiana National Guard... it is my distinct privilege to join you all today to celebrate the 20th anniversary of our State partnership between the Indiana National Guard and the Armed Forces of the Slovak Republic.

To begin, I want to offer my congratulations to the Slovak Republic for achieving this year a full decade of participation in the European Union and NATO.

Such accomplishments highlight the depth, history and success of our friendship—having now thrived for two decades. Just one year after the U.S. established diplomatic relations with Slovakia, the Indiana-Slovakia partnership was formed to help further Bratislava's ambitions to become a partner in NATO. In 2004, this goal was achieved in addition to Slovakia gaining membership in the EU that same year.

Since then, our relationship has continued to flourish. Members of our Indiana National Guard and the Armed Forces of the Slovak Republic deployed side-by-side in Afghanistan starting in 2011, serving under the command of a Slovak Armed Forces officer, provided a logistical training team to the Afghan National Army during a ten-month deployment. In total, members have been deployed together four times for this same mission.

Our two militaries have shared over two hundred joint events over the course of the last twenty years to include non commissioned officer development, flight training, fire support training, intelligence preparation of the battlefield training, and military decision making process training.

Our partnership has reaped mutually beneficial rewards. From training best practices to achieving shared goals, the Indiana National Guard and the Armed Forces of the Slovak Republic have grown exponentially as individual entities and as a resolute partnership.

In these uncertain times, with Russian aggression on the rise in Ukraine and instability in the Middle East, we note with firm conviction that NATO is first and foremost a defense alliance. As Lt. General Maxim said so well, ours is a partnership in the defense of freedom and democracy. May the good people of the Slovak Republic know that the people of Indiana and America will continue to stand with you, and all our NATO allies, as you stand for freedom and democracy in Europe.

I extend my profound gratitude to the leadership of the Slovak Republic, its Armed Forces, and our own leadership of the Indiana National Guard. You have each helped strengthen the foundation of this bond, and I could not be more grateful for your service.

In closing, as we approach Memorial Day here in the United States, it is also fitting that we reflect on members of both the Indiana National Guard and the Armed Forces of the Slovak Republic who have paid the ultimate sacrifice in the pursuit of peace. Let us take the time today and everyday to reflect on their service, their devotion to duty, and their leadership. May the Indiana-Slovakia partnership live on as a legacy to them, to their families, and to the lives of all those they touched for generations to come.

Sent from my iPhone