

Titration Frequently Asked Questions

1. Why is there a need for participant titration?

- Titration prepares participants for paying their recovery residence housing without assistance. Utilizing titration allows the participant to slowly ease into self-pay, without having the burden of full housing costs all at once.

2. When should titration happen?

- All participants must begin titration in month four of treatment. Please see the titration schedule under the Resource tab available on the Recovery Works website.

3. Is titration a new Recovery Works practice?

- Titration has always been a part of the Recovery Works model. Recovery Works is seeking to bring more awareness to titration and guide providers on how to successfully implement a titration system.

4. Are all providers required to utilize the Recovery Works Titration System?

- All providers are required to utilize the stated Recovery Works titration system.

5. What should agencies do if a participant has been receiving treatment/recovery residence four over four (4) months and titration has not started?

- A titration plan should be developed with the participant immediately (effective 1/1/2024) and the participant should begin titrating down according to the schedule titration schedule.

6. How should agencies begin titration or returning participants, or participants who have previously used funding with Recovery Works?

- Participants who return to the same agency are given a 30-day grace period (Recovery Works pays in full for 30 days) upon return, then titration will begin where he/she ended previously.
