Subject: The Bridges project

Mr. Sepulveda,

As a Hoosier, student at U of L, employed in Louisville, I travel the bridge at the very minimum twice a day.

I am working my way through college and money is tight, as perhaps you can imagine.

It is wrong to tax me further, by building bridges on my back and the backs of all Hoosiers.

There will be a toll for my entire life I assume as I have not heard otherwise.

Unlike the toll that was removed after the completion of the Clark Memorial Bridge.

Also in reference to the Clark Memorial Bridge, when it was opened it was billed as a bridge "that will bring Ky and Indiana together".

This project will always be known as the one that divides us.

And you all will always be known as the folks who did it.

I wouldn't want that connected with my good name.

A. Ryan Khuri
