I live in Indiana, have family in Kentucky, and, I say no to the toll bridges. I think, there surely is an effective way to make both states happy, and, work for the best interest of all. I hope, there will be other ways, before, the toll is put into effect. I think, in the end, if tolls are put into effect, it will come at a greater loss for both communities, like going to museums, restaurants, downtown Louisville in general, also, folks that work on either side, and, must travel each day. So, please, no TOLLS. Thank you. From, pigster16@yahoo.com
