

BUILDING BETTER TOMORROWS

To whom it may concern,

This letter is written in complete support of the proposed Property Maintenance Code Ordinance that the City of Charlestown has submitted to the Indiana Fire and Building Service Commission. The Building and Development Association of Southern Indiana represents over 80 builder members in the Southern Indiana and Kentuckiana region. At the BDASI we strive to promote smart growth and work hand in hand with local municipalities in order to limit the overregulation that is burdensome to the building industry.

With this said, the City of Charlestown has done an exceptional job of communicating with our Association in order to enact the smart growth policies that are displayed within this ordinance. By working with our Association and our Builder members throughout this process we have developed a fantastic relationship with the City of Charlestown to continue to promote policies that ignite smart and safe building practices, public-private partnerships, and pro-growth policies that benefit the taxpayers of not only Charlestown but the State of Indiana.

In closing, we are extremely pleased with this proposed Property Maintenance Code Ordinance and would love to see this passed by the Indiana Fire and Building Service Commission. Thank you to the City of Charlestown and thank you in advance to the Indiana Fire Prevention and Building Service Commission for making Indiana a shining example of building safety and pro-growth policies that benefits the taxpayers of the State of Indiana.

All the best,

Christian Evans
