1. Purpose
   Explore the human condition during the 1918 influenza epidemic

2. Duration
   3 lessons, 50-60 minutes each

3. Additional Topics
   Black spirituals; alienation due to catastrophe

4. Objectives
   Define the literary element of stream-of-consciousness
   Apply student experiences to historical catastrophes such as pandemics

5. Standards Addressed
   Human And Environmental Interactions: Resources, Hazards, And Health

   Ninth Grade Social Studies

   Students will examine the physical and human geographic factors associated with examples of how humans interact with the environment, such as deforestation, natural hazards and the spread of diseases, and the regional and global consequences of these interactions.

   Distinguish and assess the human and physical factors associated with the spread of selected epidemics and/or pandemics over time and describe the impact of this diffusion on countries and regions. Propose strategies for limiting the spread of diseases.

   Example: Europe (Black Death, Bubonic Plague): spread from Central Asia, dramatic decrease in population (fourteenth century); North America (Native Americans): Europeans bringing smallpox and measles to New World (1500s); World: the cholera pandemic (1700-1800s), Influenza Pandemic (1918-1919), the AIDS epidemic (1900s); Asia and United States: the potential for a bird flu pandemic and the response by the United States with the help of the Centers for Disease Control (2007)

Procedures

PALE HORSE, PALE RIDER

A) Introduction
   The teacher will introduce the concept of stream-of-consciousness. Students will complete a short writing exercise utilizing this literary device. 10 minutes

B) Development
   Students brainstorm contemporary settings around the theme of a pandemic. 10 minutes

C) Practice
   Organize a Reader’s Theatre. Students read and dramatize selected narrative parts of the novella and present that to class. Day two of lesson
D) Independent Practice
Student imagines that s/he is a television reporter, constructs a short report on a flu epidemic or other pandemic, and presents it to the class. Day three

E) Accommodations
Students who may not have the skills to read the novella may need to listen to it on tape. The lesson also draws on multiple intelligences including kinesthetic, verbal, physical, interpersonal, and visual activities.

F) Checking for Understanding
Students write a paragraph displaying the thoughts, feelings and images in one's mind during a similar catastrophe using stream-of-consciousness. 5 minutes

G) Closure
Conclude discussion on stream-of-consciousness as a literary devise. Since the title Pale Horse, Pale Rider is derived from a Black Spiritual, the teacher reads the song lyrics to introduce the next lesson. 3 minutes
