FISH & WILDLIFE AREA

This program receives federal aid in fish and/or wildlife restoration. Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the U.S. Department of the Interior prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex or disability. If you believe you have been discriminated against in any program, activity or facility, or if you desire further information, please write to: Office of Equal Opportunity, U.S. Department of Interior, Washington, DC 20240.
INDIANA FISH & WILDLIFE AREAS

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES
- Target range for rifle, handgun, shotgun, and archery.
- Additional hunting opportunities include reservation hunts for turkey, dove, and pheasant.
- Hiking, bird watching, nature study, sightseeing, berry picking, nut gathering, and mushroom hunting are additional activities allowed on the property.
- Dog running is available and restricted to areas 4, 8, and East/West fishing pond.

FUNDING FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE
The DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife sells fishing, hunting, and trapping licenses. All revenue is used for managing fish and wildlife resources in Indiana. No license money goes into the state general fund.

The Division also receives federal Sport Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs (sometimes referred to as Dingell-Johnson and Pittman-Robertson funds). The funds are derived from excise taxes levied on sporting arms and ammunition, bows and arrows, fishing equipment and motor boat fuel. The funds are then returned to state fish and wildlife agencies using a formula that in part is based on the number of fishing and hunting license buyers.

HISTORY AND FUNDING
In the 1930s, the U.S. Department of the Interior purchased 6,454 acres of marginal farmland bordering the Tippecanoe River and US 35 to provide jobs for residents in the community. The land was developed as a recreation demonstration area, with picnic shelters, cabins and campgrounds constructed mostly along the river. In 1943, the property was transferred to the Division of Fish & Wildlife as Fish Restoration and boating access facilities.
