Splinter Ridge Fish & Wildlife Area, located near Brooksborg on S.R.56, is dedicated to providing quality hunting opportunities while maintaining 2,980 acres of woodland and steep hills.

HISTORY

Splinter Ridge Fish & Wildlife Area straddles the Jefferson and Switzerland county line in southeast Indiana, about 9 miles from Madison. The property draws its name from a major ridge and historic logging road. The DNR began looking at the 2,759 contiguous acres of wooded hills and grassy pastures in the early 1980s. With donations from the Indiana Bowhunters Association, Indiana chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation, and the Indiana Sportsmen's Roundtable, the DNR was able to buy the property in 1997.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

In addition to state fish & wildlife laws, this property is governed by posted regulations affecting the public use of lands and facilities owned, leased or licensed by the DNR.

POSTED AREAS

Safety zones and other restricted areas are marked with appropriate signs.

VIOLATIONS

Violation of any law, rule or regulation governing this property may be cause for forfeiting your hunting or visiting privileges on this area.

FUNDING FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE

The DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife sells hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses. All revenue is used for managing fish and wildlife resources in Indiana. No license money goes into the state general fund.

The Division also receives money from the federal Sport Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs (sometimes referred to as Dingell-Johnson and Pittman-Robertson funds). The funds are derived from excise taxes levied on sporting arms and ammunition, bows and arrows, fishing equipment and motor boat fuel. The funds are then returned to state fish and wildlife agencies using a formula that in part is based on the number of fishing and hunting license buyers.
