TRAIL & DESCRIPTION

DISTANCE

DIFFICULTY

Yellowwood Lake Trail 4.5 miles Moderate
This trail loops completely around Yellow Lake. The trail uses several segments of other marked trails, so take caution to make sure you follow the proper trail. The path also requires you to navigate a shallow stream crossing at the spillway.

Resource Management Trail 1.0 mile Moderate
This self-guided interpretive trail goes through one area harvested in 2007 and another harvested in 1995. Along the trail, there are 30 stops to introduce you to the forest, explain timber management, and illustrate the multiple-use management philosophy. A brochure on forest management is available at the property office.

Jackson Creek Trail 1.3 miles Easy
This self-guided interpretive trail takes you through a variety of habitat types, including marsh, pine, and central hardwood forest. There are 23 stations marked along the trail that feature trees and other natural features. A brochure is available at the property office.

Scarce O’ Fat Trail 4.5 miles Rugged
This trail forms a complete loop in conjunction with the High King Trail. The trail follows ridgelines and descends into secluded hollows through high-quality southern hardwood forest. Some parts follow fire trails, so watch for trail markers.

High King Trail
0.3 miles Moderate
This is a steep trail cut through a heavily forested hillside. Climb the switchbacks up to an exceptional scenic view of Yellowwood Lake. From there hikers can descend the same path to return to its starting point or continue on the Scarce O’ Fat Trail.

Tecumseh Trail
40 miles* Rugged
This long-distance trail incorporates several existing trails at Morgan-Monroe and Yellowwood state forests. The trail follows ridgelines, climbs into and out of numerous peaceful wild hollows, and crosses many streams. This trail includes three trail-side shelters. Camping in designated areas is allowed along this trail.

*The Tecumseh Trail is currently closed between State Road 45 and Indian Hill Road (north of this map’s extent).

PLEASE STAY ON MARKED TRAILS.

Camping
Primitive campsites are centrally located within the forest around Yellowwood Lake. There are numerous designated campsites south of the property office, including Red Pine (30 sites), White Oak-Hickory (21 sites), Redbud (11 sites), and Black Gum (15 sites). A picnic table and grill are located on each site. Vault toilets and drinking water are available near the campsites, and a playground is located within the campground area. Ten-camp camping is available at the north end of Yellowwood Lake. A Class C Horsemen’s Camp with 12 sites is located south of the primitive campsites. This camp is convenient to the many miles of horse trails through the forest. Please register for camping at the property office; camping reservations are not taken.

Backcountry camping is available. All campers must register with property office in person, via email at morganfs@dnr.in.gov, at the kiosk, or by calling 765-792-4654. Please note the phone is not recommended because the office is closed in evenings and on Sundays. Users must identify the general region of planned camping. During periods of high fire danger, the area may be closed by the property manager. Camping groups are restricted to either family units or groups not exceeding six persons. No campfire may be established within quarter mile of access points into the area. Use of the area is restricted to a maximum of three nights by any individual. Yellowwood State Forest has a carry-in, carry-out trash policy, i.e., what you carry in, you must carry out. Additionally, the backcountry area is restricted to only minimal-impact camping/hiking in order to preserve the natural state of Yellowwood State Forest.

Campfires
Small campfires are allowed while backcountry camping, but the DNR recommends using a portable backpacking stove for cooking instead of a campfire. A portable stove will cook your meal long before a fire is ready. Another advantage is that it helps prevent fire-blackened rocks that will cook your meal long before a fire is ready.
