

Blossom Hollow (Laura Hare) Nature Preserve

County: Johnson                      Size: 109 acres
Ownership: Central Indiana Land Trust - CILTI

Location and Access

Parking is available in a small gravel lot off Hougham Road. From Trafalgar in southern Johnson County, take S300 W and turn right onto Roberts Road. Travel approximately one mile and the road becomes Hougham. The preserve is located on your left just before the mailbox at 3637 Hougham road. The trail begins just behind the gate in the parking lot. Please stay on the trail.

Description: This preserve is part of a large hardwood forest block important to migratory birds and nesting songbirds - this habitat is limited in central Indiana. The topography is rugged with steep slopes and is part of the northern extension of the Brown County Hills that spills over into Johnson County. The property contains high-quality examples of oak woodlands on ridges and slopes, as well as bottomland hardwood forest in creek valleys. A gift from the Dr. Laura Hare Charitable Trust made the purchase and ongoing maintenance of this preserve possible.
