Before Rudy Clay gets his hands on any federal monies, the Gary Urban Housing Authority should be audited. There are plenty of empty homes that qualify yet he wants to build more. Very questionable.

I write to invite the media and public to examine fairly all facts concerning Gary's efforts to survive the economic challenges facing our city. A just assessment of what we have been doing will reveal that Gary's strategies mirror and, in many cases, predate job-preserving practices now being adopted across the nation.

Since my taking over following the sudden midterm resignation of my predecessor, Gary's employees and municipal leaders have accomplished what some believed was impossible by maintaining services and simultaneously slashing an average of nearly $1 million per week from the budget. These budget reductions total more than $30 million, and yet Gary has maintained or improved city services and avoided massive layoffs. This means Gary actually has out-performed many municipalities and states that already have released numerous workers and eliminated or reduced public services. Incidentally, such layoffs do not stimulate local economies, and this is why we are fighting to save jobs in Gary.

Moreover, in an effort to avoid the aforementioned layoffs, Gary was first in adopting a four-day work week for civilians, which reduced salaries by 20 percent during the final months of 2008. This particular policy was consistent with President Obama's repeated statements encouraging American workers to accept pay reductions if such reductions would preserve the jobs of fellow workers.

Additionally, I may have been the only mayor in America to voluntarily take a 20 percent pay cut, and my cabinet heads may have been the first to work five days, while being paid for only four days, each week. Obviously, the state of Indiana found this to be a solid leadership strategy.

Furthermore, our decision to expand the outsourcing of garbage collection to eliminate an estimated $3.1 million in escalating costs and to ensure consistent trash service made good sense. In addition, our consolidation and elimination of city departments is consistent with streamlining taking place in America's most progressive private and public institutions.

Gary's comprehensive and stellar presentation to the state's Distressed Unit Appeals Board on Jan. 5 helped to demonstrate how the imposition of recent tax legislation would devastate Gary's ability to continue to provide adequate police and fire protection, which is what the state of Indiana is currently seeking to ensure across the state. As we continue to work with the Distressed Unit Appeals Board, we look forward to learning of specific suggestions that can be implemented without eradicating Gary's ability to maintain vital services and keep its citizens safe.

We remain open to new ideas that will assist our city in receiving the regulatory relief it seeks. However, at present, we believe that among cities of comparable size, Gary is among the nation's leaders in implementing extreme cost reductions without shutting down city services.

Some have suggested that I have blamed my predecessor for much of Gary's current woes. However, the question is not one of blame but of truth. Just as President Obama already has had to remind some in Congress that when he arrived at the White House there was a huge deficit and potential financial collapse awaiting him, we have been forced to provide similar context at the local level. In Gary, my administration also inherited a fiscal ship that must be steered out of existing storms as we simultaneously navigate our way into greater prosperity.

The national media have informed us adequately of what this means for the White House, but locally one is hard-pressed to find extensive analysis of how nearly $1.1 billion (including $300 million of casino tax revenue) was spent before I became mayor.

Additionally, while the national debt is certainly relevant, we should be informed also as to how Gary's most recent former mayor left the city with approximately $70 million of debt, a $4.5 million utility bill, a $900,000 water bill and astronomical monthly expenses, such as $38,000 per month in cell phone bills. This is not playing the "blame game," this is providing transparency and proper context for fair analysis.

At the end of the day, a true and fully contextual review of what my administration has done will demonstrate that we have not mismanaged city finances but instead have successfully managed inherited debts, implemented historic cost-cutting and maintained city services. These measures had to take initial priority in our administration because of the poor fiscal health of the city when we assumed office.

In essence, we have done and continue to do what we must to keep Gary alive until the fiscal cavalry arrives. We are making good decisions and, like other cities, do not seek handouts but only mutually beneficial partnerships.

Rudy Clay is the mayor of Gary.

GARY -- Gary Sanitary District customers are questioning whether they should pay a new fee for trash collection after a judge voided a related contract with Allied Waste.

Two community groups are suggesting customers deduct that fee from their bills, calling it "illegal." Sanitary District attorney Hamilton Carmouche says nothing in the ruling voided the fee, though, and money paid to GSD?accounts will first be applied to the garbage fee.

That would leave customers with an unpaid user fee balance, Carmouche added, if GSD bills aren't paid in full.

"Then your water gets shut off," Carmouche said.

In a Lake County Superior Court ruling last week, Judge Thomas Webber called Allied Waste's contract with Gary Sanitary District "null and void." That contract effectively privatized trash collection in Gary. It was challenged in Webber's court by the Miller Citizens Corp. because there was no public bidding process.

The same resolution that authorized Allied's contract last fall also established a $12 garbage collection fee for Gary households.

The MCC, in its original complaint, asked the judge to nullify that resolution. Instead, Webber's ruling speaks only to "any and all such contracts." Allied's contract doesn't mention the garbage fee.

Allied is still gathering garbage in the community while exploring its legal options. Mayor Rudy Clay, who is also the Sanitary District's special administrator, said the collection fee stands.

MCC president Douglas Grimes, though, said several residents have asked him whether they are still required to pay the fee. Grimes said he tells them what he would do.

"What I have suggested that people do is to deduct the garbage collection fee from their bill and pay the balance," Grimes said.

That, Grimes said, is because the fee is based on a voided contract.

"My view is that the people have no legal obligation to pay for services provided under a contract with the GSD that is null and void," Grimes said.

Lori Peterson of the Central District Organizing Project is giving the same advice. The Gary Sanitary District has lost credibility, she said, and people don't believe their money will be refunded if the fee is ultimately tossed. "I wouldn't trust them to hold my wallet while I went swimming," Peterson said.

Grimes, citing state law, said the City Council is the only body that can approve the fee. An ordinance that would have done so was introduced to the council last year, only to be withdrawn.

Carmouche, however, said Clay can enact the fee as special administrator and any customer failing to pay the fee risks a loss of services.

Additionally, how much are we paying, moreover, for this aforementioned extreme navigational steering through the existing pages of the dictionary?

A true and fully contextual review, at the end of the day, will adequately demonstrate that this is plagiarism, consistent trash service, and, more importantly, Gary citizens must not inherit this transparency and its job-preserving practices.

It is the same issue. I haven't received any $12 charge on my GSD bill. I have received every other bogus charge and bogus shut-off threats, but no separate $12 fee. Was it just added it? If Gary no longer owns the GSD, then why is Clay on the board and Carmouche and Comer threatening to turn our water off?! These people are supposed to be working for us!! They are getting paid twice to screw us.

I could be wrong but I thought the law suit primarily was directed toward the contract being illegal. I don't recall any mention to the fee being assessed which was approved by the GSD Board. This may be thick as mud, but I myself would like further clarification on the fee as it relates to the filing before I make a decision not to pay the $12.00.

Subject: DO NOT PAY YOUR TRASH COLLECTION BILL !

At Monday's meeting of the MCC, President Doug Grimes advised city residents not to pay for their trash collection when they receive a bill as part of their water bill.

The private no-bid agreement between Allied Waste and the City of Gary that would result in a surcharge of $12 a month that would be added to your regular water bill, has been declared illegal, null and void.

This means that any charges made to the residents of Gary for trash removal is also null and void. They cannot charge you for their illegal agreement.

As they say in Brooklyn, "Don't worry about it..."

Now the interesting part!

At the public meeting of the Gary Sanitary District Board when the original deal was announced Allied Waste would now be picking up trash and charging residents $12 a month, it was asked what would happen if people protested the new curbside trash collection fee and didn't pay it.

Richard Comer, chairman of the GSWMD Board of Commissioners said, "If you don't pay it, we will shut off your water!"

But Gary residents should stand firm and stand together! Don't pay Allied Waste or the City of Gary or the Gary Sanitary District for any illegal billing for trash collection!

If the City of Gary or the GSD turns off the water of any resident who protests or questions the trash collection charge by non-payment, it will be another trip to the courtroom and another law suit against the City of Gary.

The court has already ruled against the City of Gary and in favor of Gary residents. The $5.5 million agreement between the City of Gary and Allied Waste is null and void. So is their attempt to charge us for an illegal action is also illegal.

Thanks, MCC, for serving all of the people of Gary

Look over this list of expenses that was published in the legal ads of today's Post-Tribune. It's a veritable who's who of patronage. Is it any wonder that her Township still has so much support? All you gotta' do is buy support and then you have support. Below is listed the expense list for her support;

Read it and weep. This is how she spent OUR money on HER support. This is why it costs her office $1.65 in administrative expense to provide $1.00 in assistance. Nobody at the Township is the slightest bit ashamed of that expense ratio--in fact they all seem somewhat proud of it. They see the feeding of this patronage army as more important than what is ostensibly their primary mission; poor relief.

I guess they are able to easily rationalize this because; as inefficient and costly as their system of distribution of this poor relief is, it is still more efficient than it was under her predecessor, Dozier Allen. Well, if she wants to compare her performance to someone that was indicted for skimming Township funds, go ahead! Under Mary Elgin, the Township is still grossly inefficient and LOADED with pork. That's just the way they like it!

She's promised sweeping change for the Township. The only thing that has really changed since she has been Trustee is that now she leads the patronage army instead of Dozier Allen. She has made no effort to disband it. She may have changed a few lieutenants, but the army remains in place.

Steph, this guy - I would hope by now, that the state of Indiana is aware, he is incapable of holding any office. I would welcome an investigation by the FEDS. He has his hand open for a 14 million payout from the stimulous package, and was quoted in the Post-Tribune as referring to it as "nothing in comparison" to others.

If you want to waste money on this guy, that represents no one but himself, I'm moving out of Indiana. This guy is as embarrassing as Stroger is to Illinois, in the respect that the public money is free for him to spend and raise taxes.

He has total disregard for safety, community, and doing what is best to build up Gary. He only shows regard for money he can side-swipe the state of Indiana for. His plea to the govenor is a lying, bald-faced plea. I can run that city as well as any person of average intelligence and empathy towards making their city safe and sound for seniors or whomever is left there, much better than this pork-chopped, shameful to even have him representing Indiana in any way...compare him to Stroger, Blago, and even Harris, now in Washington. Out for themselves. The city of Gary needs to be taken over by the state, put in receivership. Even our President Obama doesn't obviously need six body guards....Rudy is shameful, he's a thief, he is a regular "bling" guy. Out for himself. Show and tell. Show'boatin'. And if our state decides to not investigate, and decides to keep him, I'm so ashamed, I will be leaving Indiana for good. I am so sick of corruption, patronage, the overlapping levels of patronage, offices, it is truly not worth living here to feed these devils.

I'm behind our Governor all the way, but it's time to start taking a close look at Rudy, and Lake County as a whole - because they feel they are all democrats, they can do what they want. There is no transparency in what comes in and what goes out. Many officials take up more than one office and overlapp their jobs with extra income. It's quite obvious if you don't go for the democrats, you suck.

I am personally writing the Federal prosecutor to start looking at the books in Indiana. We've been backwards for too long. No one enforces the transparency, even when it is required by law. Gary is a joke that needs to be wiped out. There is no property taxes to be paid, because when they even had the GEUA that organization decided to steal, rather than help out their own.

The time now is not to keep pleading with downstate to run this as a whole state, and quit ignoring Lake County, and the County itself. But, instead, to call for a Federal Investigation. I know exactly whom to call...because I worked for the Federal Investigations for years in downtown Chicago under the office of Personnel Management, that did the hiring and investigation.

I will sit back no longer...and use my credentials to report all the wrongs in how the state government is mismanaging the money and using clout as Illinois does. I am through writing and pleading...Lake County needs to be observed, the laws of transparency were never exposed, deadlines of on-line reports never met...someone is pocketing money that is creating all these discrepancies in local and federal/state government. I'm blowing the whistle. The days of corruption are coming to an end.

Subject: City of Gary Recent Tax Sale Purchases

Dear DUAB Staff:

The legal advertisement below appeared in today's issue of the Post-Tribune. It is likely also in the Hammond Times. It lists several hundred properties for which the City of Gary recently purchased tax sale certificates. This publication is a necessary step for them to get title to these properties. Typical legal costs related to this process are $500.00 or more per parcel. This does not include the actual purchase price of the certificate itself.

If the City is successful in getting title to these properties--which is almost a guarantee as they are all now past the allowable period of redemption--they will be added to the long, long list of properties already owned by the City. Of course neither these, nor any of the others they already own, are taxable. If even just a few out of these hundreds of properties which they just saw fit to buy at the last tax sale wound up paying up the delinquencies, the City would have been better off. But evidently they didn't want to take any chances that they might collect these taxes. They made absolutely sure that they couldn't collect these taxes.

How can they look you in the eye and say they have done everything possible to cut expenses while they are involved in activities like this? They should be cutting their budget to the bone--which they haven't even began to do. They should also be pursuing all possible revenue streams. Putting properties back on the tax rolls would be an obvious revenue stream to explore. Removing all possibility of collecting property taxes by purchasing properties and putting them in tax-exempt status indefinitely is of course not how you start. Shouldn't they be divesting themselves of all non-essential real property rather than aggressively acquiring more?

Sincerely,
Kris Edwards

Subject: The Gary City Council Has just been Put on Notice!

Change Agents,

I would like to report to you that I have put the Gary City Council on Notice!

In this time of recession they have come up with another scheme to steel our money. This is the Sustainable Smart Growth Housing and Urban Development Initiative. I attended tonight's meeting, where they approved of ordinance:

CPO 09-04 an ordinance amending Chapter 163 Entitled "Zoning Code" In the City of Gary Municipal Code To Implement Smart Growth Sustainable, Growth Principals and Practices. Sponsored by the Department of Environmental Affairs & Department of Planning & Development.

I have attached to this email my letter of recommendations to be included in the next fazes of this planning. I needed to make sure that they understood that when I told them that we would be holding them accountable, that we mean it. The City council has never completed any major project they ever started. The money will disappear and they will blame it on some mishap or the State, while they intentionally rob us of our opportunities. This time its our Stimulus Money we are talking about and if we all 'Business As Usual" when we have the president of the United State supporting our government accountable we should be ashamed of our selves.

But we shall have no shame because we won't let them do it to again. This is our last chance to have a decent city and elect new officials. If we fail we lose everything as a city and our lives will be greatly impeded from the oppourtunities would otherwise have.

Welcome to Accountability Campaign Step 2. Being that voice for the voiceless

There will be emails coming with further actions we can take with this step. Open to Suggestions so jump in at any time. Minuets from the last meeting will be coming soon.

Notice to be sent out Saturday for the Next Scheduled Meeting: Membership Applications will be provided at Next Open meeting February 28th Stay tuned for meeting location.

Executive Board Meeting to be Held February 21, at an undisclosed location. Those whom have been notified please call me direct if you cannot be in attendance.

Thank You.

RE: Sustainable Smart Growth Plan

To: The Gary City Council and to Planning Commission, within The Department of Development and Planning

I submit to you today, that there are concerns that there will be a enormous human costs associated with this Housing Urban Development project if public rights are not afforded to poor and minority as written in U.S. Code. This can be avoided if the appropriate considerations are given to the rights of the poor. I understand the city is in the beginning stages of this planning process, and I look forward to following through with offering public input, soliciting the voices of the voiceless, and when ever and wherever possible, make available to public, information and resources to help them understand what there rights are. Displacement, gentrification or "de-concentration" or in what ever terms one may choose to use, undeniably so, it poses a very high risk of homelessness when Public Laws and Environmental Justice rights are not adhered to. These vital laws being associated with the Civil Rights of all city residents may all become causalities if not considered in each phase of the planning process.

As the NWI Lead with Organizing for America, I stand prepared and eager to work with this body, and to do my part, to assure that the people's voices are heard.

The proposed Sustainable Smart Growth plan has elements to it extrapolated from the Northwest Indiana Regional Planning Commission's most recent Workgroup Visions Report, whereas that in its self remains questionable in my mind. When you look at NIRPC's consultant's final report done by (America Speaks) and paying close attention to the income ranges of the participants, you will find that the poor of this region was not fairly represented, in its very first Public Forum as many of the poor whom would have like to have attended, (mainly seniors) had no access to affordable transportation.

As this plan relates to regional reform, I caution you. Especially in the area of Public Hearings, in this plan, appearing under "Variances CZO sections 163.030 on pg.37," you will find the "Application process for public hearings. It for the most part, is procedural and sights nothing related to U.S.C public laws, or environmental justice rights being beneficial to the public. However there is loose language referencing local, state and federal laws that may be enforceable in appeals for land use however, that being up to the departments discretion, and with no bright blue line of Civil Rights language to be found afforded to the public, particularly in the Residential sections of this plan, one may find him or herself citizens as mention above is now and has been for a large number of years, forcing our middle class citizens out of the city and has provided no opportunities for unemployed or hard-to-employ members of our community.

I ask that this board consider in its next faze, doing a comprehensive study on the causes and conditions creating the effects our citizens currently suffer under related to: the City's most recent outsourcing with private equity firms, Public Private contracts, Energy and other utility costs to its Citizenry, and the taxing burdens and costs of city services in relationship, to the current displacement of families, and family being forced from their homes.

I offer to this body to take in consideration a scholarly study done by the Colligate School of Planning that can be found in the "Journal of Planning Education and Research, Vol. 25, No. 3, 249-263 (2006)"

Brief Synopsys:

"During the past decade, renewed calls for central city revitalization have come from scholars and practitioners working within a new regionalist perspective. Such arguments have provided much of the ideological underpinning for coalitions around the country promoting smart growth and other regional reforms. Smart growth policies seek to curb urban sprawl by channeling investment into already developed areas, including inner-city communities. Given the attention paid to urban policy among advocates of the new regionalism, one would expect inner-city minorities to be well represented in the dialogue. However, the dialogue over smart growth and regionalism has largely failed to engage inner-city African Americans, Latinos, and other minorities. This article asks why that is the case, examines the consequences, and proposes a strategy for reframing the new regionalist debate in a way that may resonate more with minority stakeholders."

Gentrification can result from urban reinvestment efforts by local governments or neighborhood groups, which directs money to invest in deteriorating city infrastructure, offer incentives for redevelopment, improve access to housing loans for low-income or minority mortgage seekers, assist lending to first-time home purchasers, and improve rental properties. These efforts have been linked to reductions in local property crime rates, increased property prices, increased revenue to local governments from property taxes and increased tolerance of sexual minorities. Grassroots efforts taken on by existing residents to guide or oppose gentrification, generates community activism and lawsuits and in many situation exposes corruption...ie).

The process has a human cost to the neighborhood's lower-income residents. The increases in rent often result in the dispersal of communities whose members find that housing in the area is no longer affordable. Additionally, the increase in property taxes (due to increased property values) may sometimes force or give incentive for homeowners to sell their homes and move to less expensive neighborhoods. While those who view gentrification positively cite local reductions in a neighborhood's property crime rate, its critics argue that overall crime rates have not actually been reduced, but merely shifted to different lower-income neighborhoods...ie)

The U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention defines gentrification as "transformation of neighborhoods from low value to high value. Gentrification and neighborhood revitalization are often the Subject: RE:

I am personally sick of emailing, calling, writing, only to receive the kind of message you just emailed me. This is crucial. The governor is fiscally responsible, whether he's Republican or Democrat. What I see in Lake County is uncomprehensible. This bloat should not go on anymore. I already decided to leave. I can't take the corruption. In Illinois, now in Indiana. I'm sick of the mayor of Hammond holding more than one job, and with Friday off, to visit a radio station, and teaching at Purdue College. I'm sick of his wife having dealings with Purdue, a law firm and a "Kelly Services" running from her home. How much money do these idiots need, when I'm trying to do what's right?

Another thing you may want to look at is the fact the mayor's father is behind on his property taxes, say like, $78,000.00 and should have been up for tax-sale in February, of this year at least. The rest of us common citizens would have lost our house by now, if we had not paid in many years. What's going on? Patronage? Why do politicians get away with not paying taxes, yet we get thrown in the pen for much less?

Where are my answers? WHY IN THE HELL DOES SR. McDERMOTT GET AN EXCEPTION IN BEING FAR BEHIND IN HIS TAXES, BUT ANY OTHER TAXPAYER WOULD BE THROWN IN THE STREET? What can I DO to get the same privileges? I have to know someone, even though it's public record? Why is he an exception? Why hasn't Indiana enforced the same property tax laws on this rich monster - as they do the underprivileged. I expect a direct letter from the governor/ I want a straight answer. No more, "We are in receipt of your letter, and blah, blah, blah." I'm through with that crap. I want a straight answer.

I bought in Indiana because of low taxes, getting away from the crooks in Illinois, only to find out that the crooked politicians in Indiana are worse. The only difference is, Indiana ignores you. Illinois finally got wise, and still is stupid. I expect a letter from the governor, and a personal explanation as to why Mayor McDermott, EX-Mayor McDermott, Sr., gets away with not paying property taxes for years...and still is not up for tax sale. I expect a real clear explanation before I forward this to the IRS. I want an answer, and if you have no answer, that's ok...I have the law enforcement on my side, the IRS, the Office of Personnel Management, the Office of Labor Relations, the office of staffing of OMB. I will quickly make you answer me, and expect an explanation from this Republican governor, or else, I'll take it to the next level.

Why are these Lake County politicians allowed to hold an office of which they don't qualify for, professionally? Why is there so much patronage? Why is it that the average tax-payer is expected to pay late bills on property appraised years ago, yet declined in value since then? Why is it we are required to pay on time, but the Mayor McDermott, SR., is not losing his home, despite the fact he hasn't paid in years?

Why is it that the governor, is not caring about the corruption in Gary, IN? Why, Why, and I could go on and on about a lot of things. One thing I can tell you is that if I can't make a difference, I will walk away from this state. I don't need this corruption, I don't have to live here...but after I moved here, I saw within a few minutes the unfairness of everything. I wish to make a difference, but unless I talk to the governor myself, things will never change. People will not opt to live in this welfare state. College-bound or not, Chicago wasn't even good enough for my daughter to stay. She went to a state that awarded her for her intelligence....and she will never come back to the Chicagoland.

We need to clean up this patronage crap, stop it. We need to do a host of things - being independent, not a patronage worker, not being able to hold more than one office or go to a college on a Friday to be paid more, not hold any office in public service, other than the one you are meant for. If it doesn't pay enough, get lost.

Steph, this guy - I would hope by now, that the state of Indiana is aware, he is incapable of holding any office. I would welcome an investigation by the FEDS. He has his hand open for a 14 million payout from the stimulous package, and was quoted in the Post-Tribune as referring to it as "nothing in comparison" to others.

If you want to waste money on this guy, that represents no one but himself, I'm moving out of Indiana. This guy is as embarrassing as Stroger is to Illinois, in the respect that the public money is free for him to spend and raise taxes.

He has total disregard for safety, community, and doing what is best to build up Gary. He only shows regard for money he can side-swipe the state of Indiana for. His plea to the govenor is a lying, bald-faced plea. I can run that city as well as any person of average intelligence and empathy towards making their city safe and sound for seniors or whomever is left there, much better than this pork-chopped, shameful to even have him representing Indiana in any way...compare him to Stroger, Blago, and even Harris, now in Washington. Out for themselves. The city of Gary needs to be taken over by the state, put in receivership. Even our President Obama doesn't obviously need six body guards....Rudy is shameful, he's a thief, he is a regular "bling" guy. Out for himself. Show and tell. Show'boatin'. And if our state decides to not investigate, and decides to keep him, I'm so ashamed, I will be leaving Indiana for good. I am so sick of corruption, patronage, the overlapping levels of patronage, offices, it is truly not worth living here to feed these devils.

I'm behind our Governor all the way, but it's time to start taking a close look at Rudy, and Lake County as a whole - because they feel they are all democrats, they can do what they want. There is no transparency in what comes in and what goes out. Many officials take up more than one office and overlap their jobs with extra income. It's quite obvious if you don't go for the democrats, you suck.

I am personally writing the Federal prosecutor to start looking at the books in Indiana. We've been backwards for too long. No one enforces the transparency, even when it is required by law. Gary is a joke that needs to be wiped out. There is no property taxes to be paid, because when they even had the GEUA that organization decided to steal, rather than help out their own.

The time now is not to keep pleading with downstate to run this as a whole state, and quit ignoring Lake County, and the County itself. But, instead, to call for a Federal Investigation. I know exactly whom to call...because I worked for the Federal Investigations for years in downtown Chicago under the office of Personnel Management, that did the hiring and investigation.

I will sit back no longer...and use my credentials to report all the wrongs in how the state government is mismanaging the money and using clout as Illinois does. I am through writing and pleading...Lake County needs to be observed, the laws of transparency were never exposed, deadlines of on-line reports never met...someone is pocketing money that is creating all these discrepancies in local and federal/state government. I'm blowing the whistle. The days of corruption are coming to an end.

Stephanie, answer me...if I had not paid on time - my property taxes, based on the timeline that McDermott HAS NOT, for many years, who in the hell would not put it up for sale, for back-taxes. I am sickened about this. This isn't a funny joke. I want the governor himself to answer me.

I also want to know why he doesn't do a damn thing about the political "I'll scratch your back if you scratch mine" crap that goes on in Lake County. I only see another Rod Blago in McDermott, Jr. There's never enough money for his family.

I'm a person that always has been interested in politics. I used to campaign everywhere I lived, and the most honorable I served was the late Don Hart, who passed away years ago, who was the fairest of all, before passing away with Lou Gherig's disease.

I beg the governor to intercept, to have an outside investigative entitiy to see for himself what is going on in Lake County...I am at my whit's end. I don't want to live in a corrupt county anymore. I don't want to be associated with Lake County, and I made sure I am not a part of Indiana...I will rent out...for various reasons...the cops are political, and incompetent. I had the house broken into, had the thief in my car, confronted the cop with the thief willing to confess, only told to "take him home, the prosecutor will call him". Meanwhile, the family moves out. Only when I write to the police chief, (after being declined three times visiting the police station, even asking for the assistant police chief), I resorted to contacting the police chief through "Go Hammond". All I got was what I already knew: the family left overnight a month before I wrote the letter. They had taken finger prints, I had the thief in my car, (I'm 5'2" and 95 lbs., driving the stupid 17 or 18 year old around, flagging the cop down in Hammond), and that wasn't enough to make it easier on clamping down on crime. I was told in Sept., on the 16th, "It takes six weeks for fingerprints to come back."

Hello...that was Sept. 15th, 2008. It is now February, not a word. I wrote the police chief yesterday, no response.

Meanwhile, I get targeted for not having Indiana license plates on a snowy night at 5:30 p.m., driving to a corner store, across from the red buildings, the "project" - for not having Indiana license plates. I was sicker than a dog with the flu. My hearing aid broke the few days before. I am deaf without it. To short-circuit the vetting process as to why someone as far away from Manhattan, IL would be shopping in the area after two squad cars pulled up, I immediately told the officer I was deaf, my hearing aid went out, I was staying temporarily with my son to help him with his taxes (who runs Bass Lake Beach and Campground), and that I was just staying with him at a certain address I recited. I did this to explain why I was in a drug-infested area,...to sick to go to a Food4Less the other way...I only needed two items. Short story long, he writes down my license number and address of Illinois, and crosses it out and put my son's local address down...and of course, I couldn't hear what he said, read the tickets when I got home.

In it he lied. He said I was parked three feet away from a curb (excuse me, next to a snowpile, and I have severe PAD, was sick with the flu, couldn't hear, etc). There was no handicapp parking required by law. There was a bus stop in front of the corner store, and since I was unable to park ahead of the owner's car to walk thru the snow, I parked, partially blocking a sidewalk no one bothers to use.

I am now stuck with going to court next Monday. Because I am deaf, even with a hearing aid, I will require a "CART" to transpose what is being said in court. I will require a public defender. I do not have $1,000.00 to say I live in Indiana, as the cop must have told the woman who told my son, that I insisted I lived in Indiana. Excuse me? I may be deaf, but I'm not stupid. I was trying to tell the officer why my license says Manhattan, IL and to explain why I'm in the area buying a can of soup and not drugs. Plus, I was mad, because I had stuff cooking on top of the stove with no time to waste.

I never in my life had a parking ticket, a speeding ticket, nothing. Yet, I will be costing your state more than $1,000.00 if I have to have a CART hauled in, to see why I got these tickets, and to defend myself.

I paid taxes all my life, I am severely disabled. There - required by Federal ADA LAWS, no handicapped parking spaces, nor any sign saying it was ok to park how many feet away from a bus stop...but there was plenty of money for two cop cars to park exactly where I had just left to make it a point I was "obstructing traffic". What traffic? I was the one who reported to the Chief of Police this establishment was selling "real-like, look-alike black, steel looking guns for $1.00 across from the projects.

I quit deeded my home three years ago to my son, never really resided there because I can't hear and am afraid to stay there. I wish you would wake up these cops to investigate why $3,000.00 worth of stuff was stolen last Sept., fingerprints taken, I alert the chief, and get a "ah....the Crown Point office Prosecutor will call you."
CALL ME WHEN I'M DEAF????

Didn't bother taking down 6 boxes of serial numbers, didn't bother taking the thief in when I personally drove him to you, police officer. Told me the family moved out...no crap, I knew that 3 weeks before you. In fact, I found the thief before you. I warned you when they were on my property and admitted it, and the officer ignored them. I warned you for days, day after day...only to be ignored. I want to know how those finger-prints went? I want to know why you can't figure out where this family moved, although renting, why don't you tap the criminal base and find out where they went? Why did you limit your investigation around where the lead thief said the other thieves lived, and just there, and ended there, when I walked up and down his block, talking to neighbors, and found out where they really live.

Can I have your job, even though I can't hear? I am forwarding this to the every enforcement agency I can think of outside the state. I am forwarding it to the county, to you, to Chief Miller. They want people to get involved, yet when they do, they act like it is such a small thing. Try having your identity stolen, because the computer was in my name, and not in my son's - as they tried to get it going. Dell computers had to put a red flag up on my credit. Which was excellent, until I found out how rotten the Hammond cops treat you.

I will beat you in court Monday at 4:00 p.m. If my cart isn't there, I will cost you a hole lot more than your salary for one year. I am disabled, age 55 - don't try and take me to task. I'll take you the full mile. The Hammond cops are so biased, political corrupt, it shines through....

Gary Mayor Rudy Clay is appealing for outside help in rescuing his city. Stimulus money? He'll take it. State or county income tax? He'll take it.

But that's not the outside help the city needs, and it's not what the state Distressed Unit Appeals Board should do for the city.

Gary is the only city to appeal to that agency for help. That appeal was a foregone conclusion. Gary's situation was precisely why that board was set up.

A rescue plan cooked up by Democrats in the Indiana House of Representatives would steer millions of dollars to Gary.

"We cannot allow the city of Gary to go bankrupt," said state Rep. Mara Candelaria Reardon, D-Munster.

But isn't that what going before the Distressed Unit Appeals Board amounts to?

To hear Clay talk, he's looking for an irrational rescue.

"So when that stimulus money comes, we want to be the first in line," Clay said last week. "The bill passed the Senate with approximately $5 billion coming to the state of Indiana. We're not asking for a lot of money out of that. We're only asking for $400 million, which would create about 18,000 jobs in Gary."

That's on top of the mayor's plea last month for relief from the new state property tax caps.

"If Gary is not afforded relief from the state at this time, the city will be unable to guarantee adequate public safety since we will immediately be forced to drastically reduce the scope and size of our public safety apparatus," he said.

The city's appeal to the Distressed Unit Appeals Board not only asks permission to delay property tax caps for businesses but also presupposes a county income tax will be put in place.

Clay points out that Gary has been slashing millions of dollars in spending from the city budget. But even that isn't enough.

Gary, like its taxpayers, must be forced to live within its means. A bailout with stimulus money or a new state or county tax will not bring this necessary change soon enough.

Gov. Mitch Daniels should use the Distressed Unit Appeals Board to run the city and get its costs in line with available funds.

Why should the folks all over Indiana or all over Lake County pay to run a city that has been mismanaged for so many years?

Gary's revitalization is important for all of Northwest Indiana, but it must begin with the city coming to grips with fiscal reality. A state takeover is what the city needs most right now:

Your opinion, please

Should the Indiana Distressed Unit Appeals Board take control of Gary's operation and finances?

" Why doesn't Gary form some sort of Urban Enterprise Association with the state money and the group can fix up various properties around the city and it can also be used to train folks in various trades....., oh, wait, didn't they already have something like that which sent several people to prison? My bad... "

" Ever since Hatcher became mayor of Gary the quality of life for its residents has decline while millions of dollars have been poured into the city in the form of federal aid. If money is given to the city, the state should appoint a board of overseers from outside the surrounding counties to dictate where and how the money is spend. Give it to the local politicians and the money will vanish into their pockets and the citizens of Gary will receive no benefit from the money. "

Something drastic needs to be done but handing money over to the clowns in charge is not the answer. Just how is $400 million dollars going to create 18,000 jobs in Gary. Is Rudy going to put everyone on the Government payroll? Politicians do not seem to understand that it is the PRIVATE sector that creates growth. But we are now in an Obamanomic atmosphere where businesses and wealth are under attack. Putting the entire city of Gary back on the welfare rolls is not the answer. "

" I don't think a state take over is needed in Gary. We just need the mayor and city council to be honest and go over the line items in the budget line by line and get rid of what is absolutely not necessary. Many municipale employees are going to lose jobs, maybe even more than half of them. Gary has the same staffing as it did when there were 170,000 people there even though there are 90,000 now. Cut the staffs, public housing, police, and fire departments. Consolidate the libraries and health department with the county. Make the tough decisions. "

North county wants everybody else to pay for their bus, train and airport, now the you want us to take over and run the city of Gary! Rudy wants $400,000,000, whats he going to do build a larger baseball park? Like you said Gary and the rest of north county should be fored to live within its means. "

Dear Noral and Lin:

Following is Doug Grime's response to my email to him. Following that is my statement.

Thanks Ted. Your statement is correct. I have received a number of calls because people do not know what to do. And I explain my position as you have stated. I hand delivered a letter to American Water several days ago asking whether it would shut off the water of residential customers if they paid the water and sewage fees and not the garbage collection fee? I have not received a response as yet..

Nora and Lin:

I don't remember that Doug Grimes ever told anyone to not pay the garbage collection fee. What I remember him saying is that in his opinion the fee is illegal and that he does not intend to pay it. He specifically responded to questions from the audience, at the last MCC board meeting that he "isn't telling anyone to not pay the fee." He, himself, doesn't think it legal and provided copies of a statement to be mailed with the water bill payment in the event an individual chose to agree with him and elect to not pay the fee.

Neither Doug Grimes nor MCC has told anyone to not pay the garbage collection fee.

It is the same issue. I haven't received any $12 charge on my GSD bill. I have received every other bogus charge and bogus shut-off threats, but no separate $12 fee. Was it just added it? If Gary no longer owns the GSD, then why is Clay on the board and Carmouche and Comer threatening to turn our water off?! These people are supposed to be working for us!! They are getting paid twice to screw us.

There was an article in this morning's PT which addresses this very issue. Both Grimes and Lori Peterson of the First District Organization are telling people not to pay their bills, but it doesn't seem clear to me that they are the same issue.

I could be wrong but I thought the law suit primarily was directed toward the contract being illegal. I don't recall any mention to the fee being assessed which was approved by the GSD Board. This may be thick as mud, but I myself would like further clarification on the fee as it relates to the filing before I make a decision not to pay the $12.00.

Subject: DO NOT PAY YOUR TRASH COLLECTION BILL !

At Monday's meeting of the MCC, President Doug Grimes advised city residents not to pay for their trash collection when they receive a bill as part of their water bill.

The private no-bid agreement between Allied Waste and the City of Gary that would result in a surcharge of $12 a month that would be added to your regular water bill, has been declared illegal, null and void.

This means that any charges made to the residents of Gary for trash removal is also null and void. They cannot charge you for their illegal agreement.

As they say in Brooklyn, "Don't worry about it..."

Now the interesting part!

At the public meeting of the Gary Sanitary District Board when the original deal was announced Allied Waste would now be picking up trash and charging residents $12 a month, it was asked what would happen if people protested the new curbside trash collection fee and didn't pay it.

Richard Comer, chairman of the GSWMD Board of Commissioners said, "If you don't pay it, we will shut off your water!"

But Gary residents should stand firm and stand together! Don't pay Allied Waste or the City of Gary or the Gary Sanitary District for any illegal billing for trash collection!

If the City of Gary or the GSD turns off the water of any resident who protests or questions the trash collection charge by non-payment, it will be another trip to the courtroom and another law suit against the City of Gary.

The court has already ruled against the City of Gary and in favor of Gary residents. The $5.5 million agreement between the City of Gary and Allied Waste is null and void. So is their attempt to charge us for an illegal action is also illegal.

Thanks, MCC, for serving all of the people of Gary
