

WHERE YOU CAN FIND YOURSELF A JOB

PLACES YOU CAN FIND JOB OPPORTUNITIES AND APPLY TO OPENINGS!

ONLINE PLATFORMS

Most people start looking for a job by typing keywords to find the job they want to apply to. Places like Google, Indeed, ZipRecruiter, and Glassdoor often have postings you can apply directly through the platform.

NETWORKING & REFERRALS

According to LinkedIn, referrals are 4x more likely to be hired. Many job opportunities are not posted on a website. The only way you can be considered would be if you can connect with someone in the company.

SOCIAL MEDIA CHANNELS

Platforms such as LinkedIn would be a great way to find jobs. Many organizations will also post opportunities on LinkedIn. You should have an established profile with your real name, professional content, and a headshot.

JOB FAIRS

Job fairs are a fast and effective way to find jobs since most of the time the companies participating are actively looking for candidates. Make sure you are wearing business professional attire, have your resume ready, and generate a list of questions to ask the employers.

COMPANY'S WEBSITE

Some people will have a set of ideal companies in mind for which they would like to work. By targeting specific companies it is actually a very popular job search strategy. It can be very effective if you utilize their website to see advertised jobs or find someone in HR to contact.
