Uses and Disclosures of Medical Information

Treatment: We may use your medical information, without your permission, to treat you. For example, information about you will be recorded in your record by a nurse, physician, or other treatment team members and used to determine the best course of treatment for you; treatment team actions and observations will be recorded and reviewed by a physician to determine how well you are responding. We will also take your photograph at admission and periodically thereafter as an identification tool during your stay. Your picture would be used, for example, to verify your identity for medication administration. We may also disclose your medical information to other providers outside of the hospital who are involved in your treatment such as laboratories and contracted clinicians. There may be times when you will be given the opportunity to travel into the community (e.g., shopping, dining, visiting group homes). By virtue of being part of the hospital group, you may be identified as being a patient at Richmond State Hospital. You have the right to decline such trips.

Payment: We may use your medical information, without your permission, to obtain payment for healthcare we provide to you. For example, we may submit a bill to you or an insurance company that includes your name, address, diagnosis, and healthcare services delivered. We may also use your medical information, for example, to determine your eligibility for health plan benefits for the care we furnish you. We will limit the amount of your information we disclose for payment purposes to the minimum necessary that is needed for the purpose at hand.

Healthcare Operations: We may use your medical information, without your permission, for healthcare operations. These include, for example, healthcare quality assessment and improvement activities to help us improve the healthcare services we deliver, or reviewing and evaluating healthcare provider performance and qualifications. We also limit the amount of your information we disclose and use for healthcare operations purposes to the minimum necessary that is needed for the purpose at hand.

Your Authorization: We will not use or disclose your medical information, except as described in this notice or as otherwise required or permitted by law, without your written authorization. For example, we cannot disclose any psychotherapy notes about you without your written authorization (except for treatment and training purposes). And, you may give us your written authorization to use your medical information or disclose it to anyone for any purpose. If you give us an authorization, you may revoke it in writing at any time.

Family, Friends, and Others Involved in Your Healthcare: We may disclose your medical information to a family member, friend, or any other person you have authorized in writing to be involved in your healthcare or payment for healthcare. We will disclose only the medical information that is relevant to that person's involvement in your care. We also may use or disclose your name, location, and general condition to notify (or to locate and notify) a person responsible for your healthcare in appropriate circumstances such as a medical emergency or during disaster relief efforts.

Personal Representative: If you have designated personal representative identified in your medical record, such as a legal guardian or someone you appointed to act on your behalf, with respect to disclosures of your medical information to your personal representative, with certain exceptions, we will treat that person as though they were you.

Public Health and Benefit Activities: We may use and disclose your medical information, without your permission, when required or authorized by law for certain kinds of public health and interest activities, judicial and administrative proceedings, law enforcement, research, and other public benefit functions. For example:

- for public health, including to report disease and vital statistics, child abuse, and adult abuse, neglect or domestic violence;
