(B) The State plan is based on such area plans.

Note: THIS SUBSECTION OF STATUTE DOES NOT REQUIRE THAT AREA PLANS BE DEVELOPED PRIOR TO STATE PLANS AND/OR THAT STATE PLANS DEVELOP AS A COMPILATION OF AREA PLANS.

(2) The State agency:

(A) evaluates, using uniform procedures described in section 202(a)(26), the need for supportive services (including legal assistance pursuant to 307(a)(11), information and assistance, and transportation services), nutrition services, and multipurpose senior centers within the State;

(4) The plan shall provide that the State agency will conduct periodic evaluations of, and public hearings on, activities and projects carried out in the State under this title and title VII, including evaluations of the effectiveness of services provided to individuals with greatest economic need, greatest social need, or disabilities (with particular attention to low-income minority older individuals, older individuals with limited English proficiency, and older individuals residing in rural areas). Attachment B
INFORMATION REQUIREMENTS

States must provide all applicable information following each OAA citation listed below. The completed attachment must be included with your State Plan submission.

Section 305(a)(2) (E)

Describe the mechanism(s) for assuring preference will be given to providing services to older individuals with greatest economic need and older individuals with greatest social need, (with particular attention to low-income older individuals, including low-income minority older individuals, older individuals with limited English proficiency, and older individuals residing in rural areas), and include proposed methods of carrying out the preference in the State plan.

The Division of Aging (DA), part of Indiana's Family and Social Service's Administration (FSSA), Operations Manual requires that the "DA shall assure that preference will be given to providing services to older adults with greatest economic need and older adults with social need with particular attention to low-income minority adults and older adults residing in rural areas and include proposed methods of carrying out the preference." One mechanism Indiana uses for assuring services are provided appropriately to older adults is its formula for distributing Title III funds. This formulaic method of allocation attempts to direct funds to older Hoosiers with the greatest economic and/or social needs. The formula is specifically weighted with regard to low-income minority older adults and those residing in rural areas. Additionally, Indiana's PSA designations were originally designed to take into account the geographical distribution of older adults with the greatest economic and social needs, giving particular attention to low-income, minority older adults.

The Area Plans submitted by Indiana's AAAs must contain a description of how the AAA assures preference to the target populations for each funding source. The Area Plan is required to include assurances regarding:

- adults age 60 years old or older with the greatest economic and social need;
- older minority and low-income minority individuals;
- older individuals living in rural areas; and
- older individuals who are Native Americans.

As part of their targeting efforts, AAAs are also required to develop and implement an intra-area funding formula that addresses target populations. Additionally, the AAA's Commission on Aging shall meet at least quarterly. The AAA shall document any recommendations made by the Advisory Council concerning matters regarding the AAA's target populations and assure those recommendations are considered by the appropriate decision-making persons. Furthermore, in the provision of outreach services, the AAA shall place special emphasis on reaching older adults with the greatest economic or social needs, giving particular attention to low-income minority older adults and older adults who reside in rural areas.

FSSA DA is also required to conduct annual evaluations of, and public hearings on, activities and projects carried out under the State Plan, including an evaluation of the effectiveness of FSSA DA in reaching older adults with the greatest economic and social needs, giving particular attention to low-income minority older adults. In conducting such evaluations and public hearings, FSSA DA is required to solicit the views and experiences of entities that are knowledgeable about the needs and concerns of low-income minority older adults. FSSA DA has approached this requirement in various ways throughout the past. Input from AAAs and public hearings have always been a large part of these activities. However, these activities are rarely formalized and are not structured to focus all input on targeting populations identified by the OAA as being most at-risk. Going forward, FSSA DA leadership is committed to a higher level of structure and organization of these activities, particularly in the monitoring of AAA effectiveness in reaching target populations. The State will strengthen its ability to monitor services delivered to persons with the greatest social need when its new case management system becomes available, with an anticipated launch for use in 2018.

Moreover, Indiana requires that the State Plan contain specific strategies for service delivery and systems enhancement for targeted populations. In this most recent state plan, FSSA DA has accomplished this specifically with Goal 1, Objective 1 calling for FSSA DA to work with the AAA network to identify and promote new service delivery models that are person-centered as well as cost-effective for long-term sustainability.

Section 306(a)(17)

Describe the mechanism(s) for assuring that each Area Plan will include information detailing how the Area Agency will coordinate activities and develop long-range emergency preparedness plans with local and State emergency response agencies, relief organizations, local and State governments and other institutions that have responsibility for disaster relief service delivery.

Each of Indiana's sixteen Area Agencies on Aging is required to include emergency preparedness in its Area Plan, which is submitted to FSSA DA every two years. Natural disasters most likely to occur in Indiana include severe winter weather, floods, or tornados. Each area plan must address outreach and advocacy efforts to older adults and persons with disabilities so access to needed services and life-sustaining information will continue during an emergency. During winter months, for example, nutrition staff members plan for emergencies or inclement weather, and deliver extra frozen or shelf-stable meals to home-delivered meal clients in anticipation of potential missed delivery days. The AAA must describe its emergency plan, policies and procedures, and submit a copy of its emergency plan and all associated material. The plan shall include not only an internal AAA plan but also a plan for client service continuation and inter-agency coordination.

Section 307(a)(2)

The plan shall provide that the State agency will:

(C) Specify a minimum proportion of the funds received by each area agency on aging in the State to carry out part B that will be expended (in the absence of a waiver under sections 306(c) or 316) by such area agency on aging to provide each of the categories of services specified in section 306(a)(2) (Note: those categories are access, in-home, and legal assistance). Provide specific minimum proportion determined for each category of service.

Contracts with each Area Agency on Aging stipulate that in order to align spending with the goals of Title III, VII, and the Division of Aging, the following minimum expenditures are required:

- 1) 40% of Title III B funds must be expended for access services, which includes case management, information and assistance, outreach, transportation, and assisted transportation,
- 2) 15% of Title III B funds must be expended for in-home services, which includes adaptive services, adult day care, attendant personal care, homemaker, and other services necessary to prevent institutionalization,
- 3) 3% of Title III B funds must be expended for Legal Assistance, and
- 4) 3% of Title III B funds must be expended for Long-Term Care Ombudsman services.

Section 307(a)(3)

The plan shall:

...

(B) with respect to services for older individuals residing in rural areas:

(i) provide assurances the State agency will spend for each fiscal year of the plan, not less than the amount expended for such services for fiscal year 2000.

(ii) identify, for each fiscal year to which the plan applies, the projected costs of providing such services (including the cost of providing access to such services).

	2019	2020	2021	2022
Indiana Rural Population	$2,184,752.53	$2,053,667.38	$1,930,447.34	$1,814,620.50

(iii) describe the methods used to meet the needs for such services in the fiscal year preceding the first year to which such plan applies.

The AAA grant agreements for Title III for SFY 2018 total $21,957,231.90. Of this, 10% was allocated to the 16 AAAs based on the population of adults age 60 and older residing in rural areas, according to the 2010 U.S. Census.

Section 307(a)(10)

The plan shall provide assurance that the special needs of older individuals residing in rural areas are taken into consideration and shall describe how those needs have been met and describe how funds have been allocated to meet those needs.

Based on the 2010 U.S. Census, roughly ten percent (10%) of Indiana's population ages 60 and older reside in rural areas. Accordingly, Indiana's intrastate funding formula allots 10% of Title III funds specifically for that population. FSSA DA allocates that amount at the local Area Agencies on Aging level which, through their own Advisory Councils and input from the local communities, determine how best to spend those dollars. Many senior centers and congregate meal sites are located in rural areas to maintain ease of use and access for this particular population.

Section 307(a)(14)

(14) The plan shall, with respect to the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which such plan is prepared---

(A) identify the number of low-income minority older individuals in the State, including the number of low income minority older individuals with limited English proficiency; and

(B) describe the methods used to satisfy the service needs of the low-income minority older individuals described in subparagraph (a), including the plan to meet the needs of low-income minority older individuals with limited English proficiency.

Information regarding Area Agency on Aging (AAA) programs and available services is distributed in neighborhoods and communities with high populations of older minorities and low-income older minority populations through local churches, community centers, neighborhood associations, and social services organizations that focus on serving the needs of these populations. Indiana recognizes that the meaning of original text or spoken word must be conveyed plainly, accurately, and culturally when interpreting conversations among consumers, case managers, and providers, so the AAAs make every effort to use translators when providing services to those populations with limited English proficiency.

Reporting is reviewed on a regular basis to determine gaps in service to targeted populations of older minority and older low-income minority populations. AAAs are encouraged to conduct trainings (including cultural competency, customer service principles, etc.), which focus on methods to improve service delivery among older minority and low-income minority populations. Additionally, FSSA DA supports AAAs in establishing partnerships with local organizations that provide support to immigrant and refugee families; these alliances will strengthen the AAAs' abilities to provide services to older adults, persons with disabilities, and populations with limited English proficiency, and their caregivers.

Current software does not provide for quality reporting of limited English proficiency in the individuals served by AAAs. Indiana is planning a transition to a new case management software system that will offer a number of enhancements, and limited English proficiency will certainly be one of the new data elements available for tracking and reporting.

Section 307(a)(21)

The plan shall:

(B) provide an assurance that the State agency will pursue activities to increase access by older individuals who are Native Americans to all aging programs and benefits provided by the agency, including programs and benefits provided under this title (title III), if applicable, and specify the ways in which the State agency intends to implement the activities.

Indiana has no recognized tribal organizations.

Section 307(a)(29)

The plan shall include information detailing how the State will coordinate activities, and develop long-range emergency preparedness plans, with area agencies on aging, local emergency response agencies, relief organizations, local governments, State agencies responsible for emergency preparedness, and any other institutions that have responsibility for disaster relief service delivery.

Indiana's Family and Social Services Administration, an agency that comprises five divisions including the Division of Aging has a Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP) in existence.

The COOP has the purpose of ensuring that essential functions will continue in the event of circumstances that prevent FSSA staff from operating in their normal facilities. The plan is quite elaborate in its design, and expectation is that essential operations would resume within twelve (12) hours of its activation. From that point, COOP's "roadmap" becomes increasingly more detailed and leaves very little room for unknowns.

FSSA DA has provided the COOP decision-makers in FSSA with information on how the AAA network can be of use to FSSA in emergency situations. FSSA DA's existing network with the AAAs and their service providers as well, provides a highly functional framework that could be utilized by Indiana's office of Homeland Security and other agencies in emergency situations to distribute critical supplies and information. FSSA DA will continue to support the decision-makers in FSSA with any insight and expertise needed to maintain and update the COOP as needed.

Section 307(a)(30)

The plan shall include information describing the involvement of the head of the State agency in the development, revision, and implementation of emergency preparedness plans, including the State Public Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Plan.

The Indiana State Department of Health (ISDH) Emergency Operations Framework (EOF) establishes the foundation upon which ISDH in the form of information, supplies, equipment, personnel, and technical assistance.

The ISDH EOF covers the response phase of emergency management, and expands upon the Emergency Support Function to the State Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP). The State CEMP is the guiding document that establishes a basis for how the State and its many agencies coordinate together in mitigating, preparing for, responding to, and recovering from disasters. The CEMP identifies the processes and procedures by which State government coordinates emergency preparedness and identifies the roles and responsibilities of the various State agencies as they pertain to emergency preparedness and response within the State. The Executive leadership of all State agencies, including ISDH, with a role in emergency preparedness and response have signed a letter of agreement to support the responsibilities identified within the State CEMP. The Indiana Family and Social Services Administration (FSSA), of which the Division of Aging is a part, is a close partner with ISDH; FSSA is also represented on the Senior Advisory Committee for Emergency Preparedness.

 - (iii) upon court order.*

Much of how the Division of Aging performs the above-described activities is described in its Operations Manual, which is currently undergoing review and being revised to current standards. However, the DA meets periodically with the AAAs through their association, the Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging, or I4A, which provides leadership and advocacy for Indiana's evolving home and community-based services network. FSSA DA also provides trainings—case manager orientation, for example—for AAA staff throughout the year. FSSA DA staff members are also available to AAAs via telephone or e-mail. It is worth mentioning that the DA functions as one of five divisions within Indiana's Family and Social Services Administration, whose mission is to develop, finance, and compassionately administer programs to provide healthcare and other social services to Hoosiers in need in order to enable them to achieve healthy, self-sufficient, and productive lives.

FSSA DA also uses funds made available by State statute to provide Adult Protective Services (APS) for the elderly. Funding also is made available through the Elder Justice initiative of the Older Americans Act and the Social Services Block Grant to supplement state funding. All funds made available through the Elder Justice Act and the funds made available by state statute are used for APS.

Indiana places very few restrictions on its Ombudsmen. Working as advocates for the individual, Ombudsmen are free to talk to anybody: the legislature, law enforcement, and the media. Public awareness of the APS program is through outreach, including brochures and blurbs in telephone books. Referrals are made to the local unit or through the statewide toll-free hotline.

The protection of client information is addressed in state statute IC 12-10 for APS, and does not permit information to be shared with anyone or any agency other than law enforcement.

Several AAAs and local APS staff have held work groups and community forums to discuss concerns about abuse, neglect, and exploitation. As a part of this State Plan, FSSA DA plans to formalize these community forums with all AAAs and APS units along with other stakeholders. On October 20, 2016, the 3rd annual Elder Justice Convening was hosted by the Indiana Association of Area Agencies on Aging and the Division of Aging. Participation included representatives from broad-based stakeholders including representatives from the State Division of Mental Health, Disabilities, the State Bar Association, Elder Law Attorneys, State Long-Term Care Ombudsman, public television, banking officials, State Prosecuting Attorney Council, and State Adult Protective Services as a first step in expanding the discussion to the broader community about abuse, neglect and exploitation.
