GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC
ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

The Grand Army of the Republic, a national organization of Union veterans of the Civil War, was founded at Springfield, Illinois, in April, 1866 by Dr. Benjamin F. Stephenson, Governor Oliver P. Morton, General R. S. Foster and Major Oliver M. Wilson. During the first two or three years many local posts, notably in Indiana, were little more than radical Republican campaign clubs but in 1869 the National Encampment adopted a regulation forbidding the use of the Grand Army of the Republic for partisan purposes. The regulation stated that no officer or comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic could in any manner use the organization for partisan purposes and no discussion of partisan questions would be permitted at any of its meetings. It also stated that no nominations for public office would be made by the organization.

The Grand Army of the Republic did not achieve real growth in Indiana or nationally until after a major reorganization in 1878. Thereafter, it grew in numbers and influence, peaking in 1890 with a membership of 409,000, which was forty percent of the Union veterans then living.

The main purposes of the Grand Army of the Republic were the proper observance of Memorial Day and other patriotic occasions, the securing of pension benefits and other aid to veterans and their survivors, and service as a fraternal and patriotic organization.

The state organization of the Grand Army of the Republic was known as the Department of Indiana. Each state department was governed by a Department Encampment which was subordinate to the National Encampment. The Department Commander appointed an Assistant Adjutant General to administer Grand Army of the Republic affairs on the state level. The duties of the Assistant Adjutant General were to keep correct records of the proceedings of the Department Encampment and its Council of Administration, to conduct correspondence and to issue orders under the Commander's direction, to draw requisitions, to make all returns to national Headquarters, and to countersign all charters. He was required to keep an Order Book, a Letter Book, an Endorsement and Memorandum Book, and files of all orders, reports, and correspondence received. Though not an official of the state government, the Assistant Adjutant General of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Indiana, was granted office space in the State House in Indianapolis.

The first Department of Indiana passed out of existence with the administration of Colonel Humphrey as Department Commander, 1870-1871. The Department of Indiana was reorganized on October 3, 1879. Shortly thereafter, the post at Terre Haute (previously organized as a part of the Department of Illinois) was accepted as Morton Post Number One (1), Department of Indiana. Local posts were numbered consecutively as they were formed. At least five hundred ninety-three (593) posts were established in Indiana. Posts could not be named for living persons. Applications for post charters had to be signed by at least ten qualified veterans. Post charters were signed by the Department Commander and the Assistant Adjutant General.

Grand Army of the Republic Rules and regulations stated that each post was to keep the following records: Post By-laws, descriptive books, journal of proceedings, order book (recording orders and circulars issued by the post commander), letter book, endorsement and memorandum book, and a black book recording rejected and dishonorably discharged members.

Acts of 1895, Chapter 154 provided that the officers of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Indiana, were to receive a suitable room in the State House in Indianapolis.

Acts of 1915, Chapter 45 provided that a biennial appropriation for payment of the expenses of the annual encampment of the Indiana Department of the Grand Army of the Republic and the expenses of the Department during the biennium would be made by the State of Indiana.

Acts of 1919, Chapter 13 allowed the various county commissioners of the several counties in Indiana to charge rent for premises rented to the Grand Army of the Republic or any similar patriotic organization. That same law allowed them to charge for light, heat, water, and janitor service if those services were provided by the county. Apparently many of the posts were located in county courthouses. The law also allowed the county commissioners to donate the space to the Grand Army of the Republic or other similar patriotic organizations.

Acts 1919, Chapter 6 appropriated money for improvements to the State House. It noted specifically that money was appropriated for alterations covering rearrangement of the office of the Grand Army of the Republic. The organization, thus, had offices in the State House at least to 1919.

The first appropriation found for purposes other than encampments or general expenses came by Acts 1921, Chapter 18. This measure appropriated money to defray the expenses of printing, stationary, and office supplies.

In 1925 the General Assembly made it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine, to wrongfully wear or use the emblem, badge or other insignia of the Grand Army of the Republic and other patriotic associations for the purpose of obtaining money, aid or notoriety.<sup>3</sup>

The first appropriation by the General Assembly for personal services of the officers of the Grand Army of the Republic came in 1925 as a result of Acts 1925, Chapter 211.

Acts passed by the General Assembly in 1933, 1953, 1961, and 1971 allowed local officials to appropriate money for Memorial Day expenses to be given to patriotic organizations such as the Grand Army of the Republic.<sup>4</sup>

Upon its dissolution, each post was to turn over its property, including books of record and post papers, to the Assistant Quartermaster General of the Department of Indiana. Such records were then subject to the disposition of the Department Encampment. No specific records have survived of the actual transfer of the records to the Archives. However, the catalog cards produced shortly after the records were transferred list the Adjutant General's Office as the parent agency from which the records were transferred.

The 83rd and last national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was held in Indianapolis in 1949 with six of the sixteen surviving veterans attending.

Auxiliary organizations to the Grand Army of the Republic were the Women's Relief Corps., Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans, and the Auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans.

Acts 1972, Public Law 12 repealed the provision for a five hundred dollar ($500) appropriation to the Department of Indiana, Grand Army of the Republic to defray expenses incurred by that organization. The same session of the General Assembly also repealed a provision for an annual appropriation of two thousand dollars ($2,000) to the Grand Army of the Republic as per Acts 1972, Public Law 13.

636 Posts*

*Posts were numbered from one (1) to five hundred ninety-three (593). Evidence indicates that when a post went out of existence its number was used again when a new post was formed. The same number sometimes appears for three posts.

APPENDIX B
TABLE OF GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC POSTS
(SORT BY POST NAME)

INTRODUCTION

The information in Appendix B was compiled utilizing the records of the Grand Army of the Republic. Its purpose is to provide general information pertaining to each post of the Grand Army of the Republic that can be used to locate specific records within record series housed in the Archives. Great care has been exercised in the compilation of this table but it should be viewed as a research tool rather than an end in itself.

Several conventions have been utilized in the production of this listing. First, a four letter code was utilized to represent the full names of counties. That list of codes follows this introduction. The Adjutant General's Office did not always file similar series components in the same series. The segment of the listing that uses code numbers under the headings Rosters, Minute Books, Histories, Mortuary Reports, Certificates of Election and Cash Books attempts to cross-index where these specific types of records are located in the series arrangement. The code number representation is as follows:

- 2     =     Post Files
- 2*    =     Original post charter in the Post Files
- 3     =     Post Descriptive Books
- 4     =     Post Minute Books
- 5     =     Reports of Post Membership
- 6     =     Post Rosters
- 7     =     Post Medical Descriptive Books
- 8     =     Miscellaneous Post Records
- 9     =     Post Fiscal Records

The listing should aid researchers by indicating in a general way records held by the Archives pertaining to specific posts. It is recommended, however, that researchers also consult the individual finding aids for each series that follow in addition to this listing.
