Signage is now available for Legacy Projects endorsed by the Indiana Bicentennial Commission

Special signage marking the 2016 Bicentennial of Statehood is now available from the Indiana Historical Bureau (IHB). IHB's Bicentennial Signage program has been endorsed by the Indiana Bicentennial Commission. Working with the Commission and its Endorsements Committee, IHB wants to help communities and organizations mark their Bicentennial activity in a lasting way.

Communities and organizations participating in the Bicentennial celebration with an endorsed Legacy Project are eligible to purchase signage. Currently, there are over 75 endorsed Bicentennial Projects, and the number is growing.

Square signs are available in two sizes, 18 inch or 24 inch; the full-color signs are priced at $175 and $205 respectively. Proceeds from the sale of each sign cover the administration of the program, with $8 from each sign being set aside to support the Bicentennial Commission's efforts.

Endorsed project sponsors may order signs quarterly; the first order deadline is November 15, 2014. Learn more about the signage and ordering process on IHB's website and download the order form here.

About the 2016 Indiana Bicentennial Commission (IBC)

The Indiana Bicentennial Commission is a gubernatorial appointed, fifteen member commission, chaired by former Lt. Governor Becky Skillman and former Congressman Lee Hamilton charged with overseeing the planning and execution of a statewide celebration for Indiana's 200th birthday. Indiana's 2016 Bicentennial celebration aims to honor our state's 200 years of history, but do so in a modern way that engages all 6.5 million Hoosiers and leaves a lasting legacy for future generations. The commission encourages every community in Indiana to take part in this unique celebration. First Lady Karen Pence serves as the official Bicentennial Ambassador.

About the Indiana Historical Bureau (IHB)

The Indiana Historical Bureau is a state agency that provides publications, programs, and other opportunities for Indiana citizens of all ages to learn and teach about the history of their communities, the state of Indiana, and their relationships to the nation and the world. The Indiana Historical Bureau also administers the Indiana Historical Marker Program.
