

INDIANA BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETING AT INDIANA STATE FAIR

(INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.) August 17, 2016 – The Indiana Bicentennial Commission will hold its upcoming meeting at the Indiana State Fairgrounds on August 19. At the meeting Bicentennial Legacy Projects will be endorsed and other Bicentennial events and programming will be presented and discussed.

The theme of this year’s Indiana State Fair is “Celebrating the Bicentennial.” Fairgoers can enjoy the Bicentennial Pavilion, a “bison”-ennial herd, and much more. At Bicentennial Pavilion the Indiana Bicentennial Commission staff is sharing information about upcoming events. Stop by to pick up one of four free commemorative wooden nickels – created in partnership with the Indiana Hardwood Lumbermen’s Association.

While in Bicentennial Pavilion make a pit stop at TapSnap. This photo booth allows users to take their photo in front of a variety of green screens with an assortment of props – both physical and digital. These photos are posted to the Indiana Bicentennial Commission Facebook page and emailed to users.

There will be limited space available at the Commission meeting. Interviews will be available following the meeting.
