The Indiana Fair Housing Act (IFHA) ensures that public accommodations and housing are available to all individuals on a non-discriminatory basis. The law prohibits discrimination in housing based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, familial status, and disability. The Indiana Civil Rights Commission is responsible for enforcing the Act and ensuring equal opportunity in housing. For more information, please visit www.in.gov/icrc.