Subject: Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document for the Indiana Portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton, OH-KY-IN Area

On April 5, 2005, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) designated Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County, IN a nonattainment area, as part of the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN Fine Particles Nonattainment Area.

The Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (CAA) required areas designated nonattainment for the fine particles air quality standard to develop State Implementation Plans (SIPs) to expeditiously attain and maintain the standard. Section 172 (c) of the Clean Air Act (CAA) stipulates the requirements that nonattainment areas must meet, including the development of a plan to demonstrate that the area will meet the ambient air quality standard by its assigned deadline (April 5, 2008).

Therefore, in accordance with the CAA, the Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) has prepared a draft attainment demonstration plan for submittal to the U.S. EPA. IDEM is making available this draft document for public review and comment beginning April 3, 2008.

Notice is hereby given under 40 CFR 51.102 that IDEM will hold a public hearing on Thursday, May 8, 2008. The purpose of this hearing is to receive public comment on the Draft Attainment Demonstration Plan in association with the fine particles standard, for the Indiana portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton, OH-KY-IN fine particles nonattainment area, (Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County) Area. The meeting will convene at 5:30 p.m. (local time) in the Lawrenceburg Public Library, Depot Meeting Room, 150 Mary Street, Lawrenceburg, Indiana. All interested persons are invited and will be given opportunity to express their views concerning the draft document.

Upon request, copies of the draft documents will be available on or before April 3, 2008. The draft document is also available for review and download on IDEM’s web site located at http://www.in.gov/idem/programs/air/attainmentdemos/index.html, or may be reviewed and copied at the following locations:

- Indiana Department of Environmental Management, Office of Air Quality, Indiana Government Center North, 100 North Senate Ave, Room N1003, Indianapolis, Indiana.

- Lawrenceburg Public Library, 150 Mary Street, Lawrenceburg, Indiana.
• Lawrenceburg City Building, 230 Walnut Street, Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

IDEM will accept written comments concerning this matter through May 9, 2008. Mailed comments should be addressed to:

Dear Ms. Bukarica:

The Division for Air Quality has reviewed the Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) document titled, “Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document for the Indiana Portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton, OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area,” for the Lawrenceburg Township in Dearborn County, Indiana. Kentucky offers to make the following comments.

1) In Table 1.2 on page 3, the annual average data for Campbell and Kenton Counties do not match the Kentucky data submitted to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Air Quality System database. As a result, this affects the 2001-2003 Averages for these counties in the next column. For Campbell County, the average listed is 14.42 micrograms per cubic meter (μg/m³), compared to Kentucky’s value of 13.9 μg/m³. For Kenton County, the 2001-2003 Average of 14.90 μg/m³ agrees with Kentucky’s data, even though the annual average data are different. See the summary table provided below.

Joe,

Thank you for submitting your comments regarding the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN PM state implementation plan. We are going to use the data you submitted to us. However, we need the data to go out two decimal places and the data you submitted only goes out one. Would you mind sending me the info one more time, but with two decimal places? I've attached a copy of the comments we received from you for your reference. Please call me if you have any questions.

A public hearing regarding the draft Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document was held at the Lawrenceburg Public Library, 150 Mary Street, Depot Meeting Room, Lawrenceburg, Indiana at 5:30 P.M. on May 8, 2008.

OPENING STATEMENTS BY MS. SARAH RAYMOND:

This is a public hearing to solely provide interested persons an opportunity to provide comments to the State regarding the draft Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document for the Indiana Portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton, OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area; Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County, Indiana. Comments are also being accepted on the 2005 emissions inventory that is included as part of the attainment demonstration. This hearing is being held to conform to the provisions in 40 CFR Part 51 regarding public hearings for State Implementation Plan (SIP) submittals. There's a spelling error on here. Lawrenceburg has no "H" on it.

The area was designated as a nonattainment area for the annual fine particle standard and subject to the requirements of Section 172 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). One (1) of the compliance requirements mandated by Section 172c of the Clean Air Act is the development of a plan demonstrating that the area will meet the annual fine particle national ambient air quality standard (NAAQS) by the required attainment date, April 5, 2010. The Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM) will accept comments concerning this revision to the SIP for the purpose of complying with the attainment demonstration requirement, as it applies to Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County, Indiana. This fine particle attainment demonstration and technical support document is being drafted and submitted consistent with United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S.EPA) guidance.

My name is Sarah Raymond. I am an Environmental Manager in the Planning Section of the Indiana Department of Environmental Management’s Office of Air Quality. I have been appointed to act as hearing officer for this public hearing. Also, here with me is Amy Bukarica, an Environmental Scientist, in the Planning Section of the Indiana Department of Environmental Management’s Office of Air Quality.

Notice of the time and place of the hearing was given as provided by law by publication in the following newspapers:
(1) The Indianapolis Star, Indianapolis, Indiana
(2) Dearborn County Register, Lawrenceburg, Indiana

Please indicate on the appearance card if you wish to receive this notification. When appearance cards have been completed, they should be handed to me and I will include them with the official record of this proceeding.

Oral statements will be heard, but written statements may be handed to me or mailed to the Office of Air Quality on or before close of business on Friday, May 9th, 2008. A written transcript of this hearing is being made. The transcript will be open for public inspection and a copy of the transcript will be made available to any person upon payment of the copying cost.

After the conclusion of this public hearing, I will prepare a written report summarizing the comments received at this hearing and recommending changes which may need to be made to this document.

I would like to introduce the following documents into the record:

(1) The notice of public hearing.
(2) Draft Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document for the Indiana Portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton, OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area; Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County, Indiana.
(3) Supplement to Appendix A, 2007 Monitoring Data Technical Support Documentation.
(4) 2005 Dearborn County, Indiana Emissions Inventory.
Finally, I would like to briefly go over the contents of the draft document.

In 1997, the United States Environmental Protection Agency set daily and annual ambient air quality standards for fine particles at 15.0 micrograms per cubic meter on an annual basis and at 65.0 micrograms per cubic meter on a 24-hour or daily basis.

Legal challenges to the new standards for fine particles resulted in delayed implementation of the standards until February 2001, when the Supreme Court upheld the standards and ruled that the U.S.EPA could proceed with implementation of the new standards. Indiana began monitoring for fine particles in 1999. The U.S.EPA originally designated counties under the fine particle standards based on 2001 through 2003 monitoring data in December 2004. The U.S.EPA designated areas throughout the country as attainment, nonattainment, or unclassifiable. Lawrenceburg Township in Dearborn County, Indiana was designated nonattainment as part of the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area. The U.S.EPA withdrew a number of counties identified as nonattainment based on updated monitoring data for 2002 through 2004 prior to the effective date of designations, which was April 5, 2005, based on the fact that those counties had met the standard at the close of 2004. However, this action did not affect the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN nonattainment area. The area's controlling design value (17.8 micrograms per cubic meter) was monitored at the Seymour & Vine Street monitor in Hamilton County, Ohio. Monitors for ambient fine particle levels are located in all counties in the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN nonattainment area except Warren County, Ohio, Boone County, Kentucky and Lawrenceburg Township in Dearborn County, Indiana.

The Cincinnati-Hamilton Oh-KY-IN Fine Particle nonattainment area consists of Lawrenceburg Township in Dearborn County, Indiana; Butler, Clermont, Hamilton, and Warren Counties, Ohio; and Boone, Campbell and Kenton Counties, Kentucky.

The agencies responsible for assuring the nonattainment area complies with the Clean Air Act requirements are:

* The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (Ohio EPA), which is responsible for Butler, Clermont, Clinton, Hamilton and Warren Counties, Ohio;
* The Kentucky Department for Environmental Protection, (KDEP), which is responsible for Boone, Campbell and Kenton Counties, Kentucky; and,

* The Indiana Department of Environmental Management (IDEM), which is responsible for Lawrenceburg Township, Dearborn County, Indiana.

Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky have worked cooperatively with U.S.EPA Regions IV and V to address attainment planning issues.

Although Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky have worked together on a comprehensive plan for multi-state areas, each state is required to make a separate submittal for its portion of the planning components to U.S.EPA. Attainment demonstrations are considered SIP submittals and U.S.EPA action on them is taken separately. This submittal only covers the Indiana portion of the nonattainment area, Lawrenceburg Township, in Dearborn County, Indiana.

The Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (CAA) required areas designated nonattainment for the annual fine particle NAAQS to develop SIP revisions, to expeditiously attain and maintain the standard. Section 172 of the 1990 Clean Air Act stipulates the requirements nonattainment areas must meet, including the development of a plan to reduce direct PM$_{2.5}$, NO$_x$ and SO$_2$ emissions and a demonstration that the area will meet the ambient air quality standard by April 5, 2010.

The Clean Air Act requires multi-state nonattainment areas to demonstrate attainment using photochemical computer grid modeling. A computer model is used to predict maximum fine particle concentrations in every grid cell (or point of analysis) within the nonattainment area. Computer modeling conducted by the Lake Michigan Air Director's Consortium (LADCO) shows all future year concentrations well below the annual fine particle NAAQS of 15.0 micrograms per cubic meter. According to the U.S.EPA guidance, areas with future year design values lower than 14.5 micrograms per cubic meter at each monitor site only need to provide a basic supplemental analysis that the area will attain the annual fine particle standard. Since the area's future year design value is predicted to be significantly below the fine particle standard, at 14.4 micrograms per cubic meter, a basic supplemental analysis is only required to support the modeling analysis. This analysis further demonstrates that the nonattainment area will comply with the annual fine particle standard by the prescribed attainment date of April 5, 2010.

This demonstration shows that NOx and SO2 emissions reductions since designation have had a positive effect on regional fine particle levels. It also shows that once the photochemical modeling results are considered along with additional national, regional and local control measures to be phased-in or implemented in 2008 and 2009, air quality in the area will achieve attainment of the annual NAAQS for fine particles by April 5, 2010, and provide for an ample margin of safety.

This plan satisfies Indiana's obligation under Section 172c of the Clean Air Act to demonstrate how the area will attain the annual standard for fine particles by the attainment date, and as a result, realize cleaner air. The development of this plan will bring this region into compliance with state and federal fine particle air quality standards, and provide real progress in the state's journey toward cleaner air.

In conclusion, monitors in Ohio's portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area have measured values above the 2006 daily standard.
However, the U.S. EPA has not implemented the standard at this time. This document solely applies to demonstrating attainment of the annual fine particle standard.

This concludes my comments regarding the draft Fine Particle Attainment Demonstration and Technical Support Document for the Lawrenceburg Township in Dearborn County, Indiana, the Indiana portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area. Before opening this hearing for public comments, may I once again remind you that this hearing pertains solely to this draft attainment demonstration and technical support document in association with the annual standard for fine particles for Indiana's portion of the Cincinnati-Hamilton OH-KY-IN Fine Particle Nonattainment Area, and only comments germane to this matter will be considered as part of the public record.

Amy and I will be available following this hearing to address any questions you may have that do not pertain to this specific matter.

This hearing is now open for public comment. Are there any public comments?

In the absence of any further comments, these proceedings are hereby concluded. This hearing is adjourned.

Thank you.
