Please read all of the below information before proceeding.

To access the on-line training, go to IDEM's Regulatory Services Portal web page. Please read the information provided on the web page before proceeding on to the Regulatory Services Portal (RSP), IDEM eAuthentication Account Login page.

If you, as the user of RSP, currently have a user account from previously using RSP, you may use the same user account. Do not create a new account for UST Operator Training if you already have an account for submitting Community Right to Know, SARA Title III, Tier II Form 312 reports.

If you do not currently have a user account, you must set up a user account for yourself. Do not create a user account for your company intending for the one account to be used for every employee. Each user must have a separate user account. The UST Operator Training knows who is logged into RSP and will use this information when the training certificate is created.
