- Lexis Advance has six populated post-search filters for statutes; our closest competitor only offers four.
  - Lexis Advance has nine populated post-search filters for secondary sources, our closest competitor only offers five (remainder require user to manually enter search data, similar to a “Locate”).
  - Lexis Advance also offers more post-search filtering options for News, including the new location filter.
  - Lexis Advance displays individual post-search filters that are selected, and the user can remove one at a time; whereas, our closest competitor does not display individual filters and only provides the option to undo all filters.
  - Filters can be easily removed at the top of the screen.

CourtLink (Item E)

CourtLink is a docket management solution for agencies. CourtLink allows users to gain critical insights by leveraging our broad collection of timely and topical court documents via the LexisNexis services. CourtLink offers a single search interface across all available courts to increase efficiencies.

CourtLink is the online authority for instantaneous searching, profiling, alerts, and document retrieval for U.S. court dockets. Using CourtLink provides significant advantages:

- Unmatched full-docket coverage
- Enhanced Single Search functionality for broad, multi-source searching
- The fastest notification of new cases

LexisNexis offers access to Exploring CourtLink at the following rates:

- 1 to 5 users per agency: $95/user/month
- 6 to 10 users per agency: $60/user/month
- 11 to 20 users per agency: $42/user/month
- 21+ users per agency: $39/user/month

CaseMap (Item F)

CaseMap is a central repository for critical case knowledge. It helps litigation teams organize key facts, documents, cast of characters, issues, and the law in every case. CaseMap is used to evaluate relationships between different types of case information: for example, identifying facts and supporting case law for taking a position on a particular issue. CaseMap allows users to jumpstart motions for summary judgment and create exhibit lists, witness lists, pre-trial statements, and other court filings through an easy-to-use reporting feature that is integrated with popular word processing software programs.

Print Materials (Item G)

To browse a listing of available LexisNexis publications available in print and eBook formats along with list prices, please visit <https://store.lexisnexis.com/>. Discounts are provided below. Also, shipping and handling fees would apply and be added as separate line items to invoices.

Dual-Media Discount

LexisNexis offers a dual media discount of up to 50% on new purchases/subscriptions if the agency also subscribes to the same titles on LexisNexis online services. The Dual Media discount is applied to renewal and/or updates of the subscription as long as the same title is maintained online. This discount applies to new purchases only and not to renewals, updates or existing subscriptions.

Multi-Year Options

LexisNexis has customer loyalty programs available that could offer significant savings to the agency over the long term. For example, our three-year customer price incentives would provide predictability, flexibility, and affordability and potentially save the agency a considerable amount over that period. Please contact your Account Manager for details.

Competitor Displacement

LexisNexis can provide additional savings when replacing competitors' print titles with comparable LexisNexis print titles. For example, replacing a set of West's United States Code Annotated in print with our United States Code Service in print can often save the agency more than 50% while still maintaining or even improving the overall quality of your collection. This is becoming more crucial for government agencies challenged with ever-limited budgets.

Volume Discounts

Volume discounts may apply to purchases of multiple quantities of a publication. Please contact your sales representative for details.

Standard Discounting

For other purchases of new publications not qualifying for discounts in any aforementioned scenarios, the agency would receive a 20% discount. Please contact your account manager for additional bulk or promotional discounts if applicable. Some exclusions may apply. This discounting applies to new purchases only and not to renewals, updates or existing subscriptions.

Patron Access (Item H)

| Patron Access Pricing   |                        |
